Jap Banzai
Charge Near
Nip Bastion

By FRED HAMPSON
Manila, Feb. 28 (AP)—Screaming Japanese, attacking behind the heaviest artillery barrage in the growing battle for the Mariquina watershed east of Manila, launched a large-scale banzai charge against elements of the American Sixth Infantry Division today.

The Nipponese were beaten off with heavy losses. The banzai attack occurred near Montalban, 12 miles northeast of Manila and close to the northern end of elaborately prepared enemy defenses along the watershed.

Clean Japs from Manila
The Sixth and First (dis-mounted) Cavalry Divisions found the Japanese entrenched in a series of caves and interconnected pill-boxes along a knife-edge ridge of the Sierra Madre mountains, reaching 13 miles from the foothills of Mount Oro to Antipolo.

Grim American infantrymen spraying liquid fire cleaned out Japanese in Manila's legislative building, but suicide squads continued to hold out in the finance and agriculture buildings.

Thirty-seventh Division troops occupied all of the legislative structure this morning after a nighttime artillery barrage broke up a concentration of Japanese machineguns on the second floor. Flame throwers, drums of gasoline and thermite grenades finished the job.

Verde Capture
In the remaining enemy-held buildings, some Japanese committed suicide and others were killed by their own officers as they tried to escape.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced, meanwhile, the complete destruction of the enemy on little Verde island, between Luzon and Mindoro, and the virtual end of the Corregidor garrison.

Triangle-shaped Verde, midway in the Verde island passage, was invaded Sunday.

This cleared the western end of the main navigational route through the central Philippines. Other Yank forces secured the eastern side last week by invading Capul and Biri islands.

Keep Pressure On Two Isle

By LIEF ERICKSON
U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Guam, Feb. 28 (AP)—Marines along a line bisecting two key islands today in the Japanese in a supreme effort to crack a foe known to be short of water and believed to be hoarding ammunition.

After noticeably slackening artillery and mortar fire Monday, the Japanese loosed a heavy barrage Tuesday at leatherness straightening out their line with slight advances north up high ground blanketed by pillboxes and blockhouses.

The Marine line, manned by three divisions, cuts across the island's center at the north end of the fighter airfield where the Nipponese still hold a fingertip's grasp after a week of battling over that base.

As the fight for the island entered its tenth day, Japanese dug in on the higher northern half still showed a marked power to resist, although they have been shelled incessantly from the sea, bombed from the air and pounded by artillery.

They even have tanks left on the barren island where enemy positions have been raked by the 16-inch guns of battleships and blasted by dive-bombers which pinpoint their targets. Monday night Marine artillery broke up a tank-led counter-attack.

$300 Damage In Three-Car Crash

Approximately $300 damage resulted from an accident involving three automobiles about three miles east of Littlestown on the Hanover road early this morning, state police from the local substation reported.

The accident occurred about 6:30 o'clock when a car driven by Walter R. Dugan, Littlestown R. 2, collided with a second machine driven by Margaret Doss, Littlestown R. 1. Dugan struck the Doss machine head on, the officers reported, as he attempted to go around the parked car of Joseph Spiridon, Hanover R. 1. Spiridon was parked on the road because of motor trouble.

No one was injured. Dugan will be arrested and arraigned before Justice of the Peace Howard G. Blocher, Littlestown, the police said.

CERTIFICATE ISSUED

A certificate for carrying on a business under an assumed or fictitious name was issued this morning at the office of the prothonotary to Leroy L. and Laura Baughman, of Baltimore, for the "Blueberry Farm," Fairfield R. 1. The certificate stated that the farm will be engaged in the fruit farming and nursery business.

Red Cross Appeals To Solicitors And Public On Eve Of War Fund Drive

On the eve of the most urgent war fund campaign in its history, which involves the largest quota yet assigned to it, the Adams County Red Cross appealed to solicitors and contributors in all parts of the county to keep inviolate Adams county's record of never having failed to raise its quota in either the present or the last World War, and not in a single emergency in the intervening years.

Mrs. Elsie Singmaster Lewars, chairman of the county chapter, urged the campaign teams in all the districts of the county to start their solicitations immediately on March 1.

"I have not the slightest doubt but that our $28,000 quota will not only be raised but that it will be oversubscribed. Adams county has never failed to fulfill its obligation to maintain the world's greatest humanitarian service—the Red Cross. I know they will not fail this year," Mrs. Lewars asserted.

Ask Larger Gifts

"Nevertheless, our task is greater than ever before. We have fewer people to canvass the county and they have less time than ever before to devote to this cause. It is for these reasons that I urge all solicitors to start immediately on the opening day of the drive—tomorrow, March 1—and to complete their assignments as quickly as possible.

"I appeal also to every citizen of Adams county to make the work of the solicitors as little difficult as possible. We hope the contributions of last year can be increased sufficiently to enable us to meet our higher quota. Few Adams county families fail to contribute to the Red Cross war fund each year, so we must depend on much the same people, as heretofore, to raise the greater sum that is required this year.

"Those who care to send their checks to our Red Cross office may do so in perfect confidence that the subscriptions will be credited to their districts and to the proper solicitors. In many cases, this procedure will greatly facilitate matters and be of inestimable help to all solicitors.

'Well Top The Quota'

"Let me assure all solicitors and contributors that the American Red Cross, our county chapter and our men and women in the service, to the service and care of whom the Red Cross has dedicated itself, humbly, and sincerely appreciate your enthusiastic support and co-operation in this great undertaking."

Henry M. Scharf, war fund chairman, expressed certainty that the $28,000 quota will be raised.

"Adams county will not only fulfill its duty in this regard, but will be 'over the top' long before March 31, the last day of the campaign," he predicted.

"It is not a question of whether the $28,000 will be raised—it is merely a question of how many days it will take to raise it. Our district chairmen, all over the county, are anxious to complete the drive by March 15—just to show the nearly 4,000 Adams county men and women in the service on all battlefronts of the world that there is no delay or hesitancy on the part of their home folk to keep all the care, the considerations and the humanitarian attentions that combine to make Red Cross service something that is tangible and real to them at their side."

Here And There

News Collected At Random

When the Red Cross solicitors call on you for your 1945 contribution beginning Thursday of this week you will definitely be helping the war effort if you have your contribution ready. Be as liberal as you can because the Red Cross needs more money now than it ever did in its long years of humane service.

Adams county is asked to raise $28,000. This should be done within a week . . . and it can be accomplished if each wage earner will give SOMETHING. Those who have limited means need not be ashamed of their donation. Those of more modest means should contribute more this year than they ever did. Without your financial support the Red Cross cannot help the men and women who are winning. (Please Turn to Page 5)

3 APARTMENTS ARE ROBBED OF CASH AND WATCH

Three apartments in the Miller building, Chambersburg street, were entered and robbed Tuesday afternoon between 1 and 6 o'clock. It was reported this morning by Borough Officer Charles W. Culp, Jr., who is investigating.

The loot included more than $20 in small change and a lapel watch for which no value was given. Officer Culp was called in to investigate after Miss Evelyn Adams, who occupies the first floor apartment, returned and found that a bank containing about $9.50 in nickels had been taken from a drawer in a bureau.

A further search by occupants of the other apartments showed that two second floor rooms had been entered. They were the apartments of Miss Frances Blye, who reported the loss of the lapel watch, and Miss Gretta Slusser, who lost about $12 in pennies and dimes. Miss Slusser's money was wrapped in coin rolls and lying on a bureau. There was nothing to indicate the apartment doors had been forced, Officer Culp said.

Two other second floor apartments, one occupied by Vivian's beauty salon, operated by Mrs. Robert Logan, and another by William Roth, apparently were not entered. Three other apartments on the third floor were not molested. The third floor residents are Miss Genevieve Rose, Mrs. E. D. Hudson, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. George Evanko. Mrs. Hudson and Mrs. Evanko were home during the afternoon.

A second report of a robbery in another Chambersburg street apartment house had not been confirmed this afternoon. Borough police were carrying on their investigation in both cases and reported that "several suspects" were being sought for questioning.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN MEET

A meeting of each of the four circles of the newly organized Ladies' Guild of the Presbyterian church was held in the church Tuesday evening. Each circle was presided over by its chairman and set up plans for the various activities of the respective groups. Officers for the different groups include:

Circle I—Chairman, Mrs. E. Donald Scott; vice chairman, Mrs. Anna Bracey; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. James Hafer.

Circle II—Chairman, Mrs. Hugh C. McIlhenny; vice chairman, Mrs. Walter Danforth; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. C. H. Heldt.

Circle III—Chairman, Mrs. Mark Johns; vice chairman, Mrs. Robert Ditchburn; secretary, Mrs. Paul Ketterman; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Bollinger.

Circle IV—Chairman, Mrs. Anna Plank; vice chairman, Mrs. John K. Lott; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Guile Lefever.

Plans were made by each group to pack a number of boxes for the Russian Relief. A feature of the meeting was a display of paper products sponsored by Circle 4.

The next general meeting of the Guild will be held in the church Tuesday evening, March 13, at 8 o'clock, at which time Dr. Bertha Paulsen will be the guest speaker. Mrs. J. Allen Dickson will conduct the devotionals. Hostesses for the meeting will be: Mrs. Walter Johns, chairman; Mrs. Clarence Bristol, Mrs. E. Donald Scott, Mrs. Anna Bracey, Mrs. Ross Myers, Mrs. O. H. Benson, Mrs. James Fulton, and Mrs. Guile W. Lefever.

SURETY CASE SETTLED

Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore reported this morning that a surety of the peace charge brought by Mrs. Etta Brock against her husband, Lee Brock, Straban township, was settled before a hearing was to be held Tuesday night.

Weather Forecast

Cloudy and continued cold tonight; Thursday fair with rising temperatures.

Wounded

Pvt. John J. Baltzley, 24, husband of Mrs. Mary K. Baltzley, Harrisburg road, was slightly wounded January 21 in France. He has been overseas since last November. Two brothers and a sister are also serving in the armed forces. Pvt. Baltzley is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Baltzley, 224 Steinwehr avenue.

COUNTIANS ON CASUALTY LIST

Pfc. Ellis A. Shindledecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shindledecker, Fairfield, was wounded in the shoulder February 2 in action in the Asiatic war zone, his parents have been informed.

He is now reported to be convalescing in a hospital in Burma. The Fairfield soldier was inducted into the service on January 8, 1943, and went overseas in May of that year. He received his training at an army camp in Alabama.

Sailor Injured

Donald E. Staub, 22, shipfitter second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Staub, York street, recently received second and third degree burns of the foot while doing a welding job on a ship in the South Pacific, his parents have learned by mail.

Young Staub wrote his parents that he was burned by a hot welding rod which dropped on his foot as he was doing an overhead welding job on the patrol craft to which he is assigned. He was taken to a base hospital at a port in the South Pacific and treated by a Navy doctor, after which he returned to his ship. While on ship he was treated by a pharmacist's mate, the injured sailor wrote.

He has been on sea duty in the Pacific for 20 months. He enlisted in the Navy in November 1942, and was called to active duty in January 1943. Before going into the (Please Turn to Page 2)

Eleanor Wickerham Awarded $10 Prize

Eleanor Wickerham, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Wickerham, Broadway, a pupil in the sixth grade at the Lincoln school, was awarded a prize of $10 in war savings stamps for selling the most bonds of any grade school pupil in the county during the Sixth War Loan drive.

The award was made at the Lincoln school this morning by Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent of schools, and education chairman for the county War Finance committee. Eleanor sold a total of 26 bonds to 14 different people to qualify for the honor.

Red Cross Proclamation

WHEREAS, American fighting men the world over are giving to the last ounce of their strength in the effort to free the world of dictatorship, and

WHEREAS, the American home front is striving through its war industries, its manpower and its moral support to stand firmly behind the armed forces, and

WHEREAS, the American Red Cross is serving our fighting men at home and overseas, as well, by means of understanding, friendly men and women trained especially for their duties, and

WHEREAS, the American Red Cross assists servicemen's families in the United States as well as serving those in uniform, and

WHEREAS, the American people through the Red Cross have sent 10,000,000 pints of blood to our wounded, thus forming a veritable life-line between us and them, and

WHEREAS, the American Red Cross is ready to give assistance in the event of any natural or man-made disaster on the home front.

THEREFORE, I, Fred G. Pfeffer, Burgess of Gettysburg, in accordance with the proclamation of the President of the United States, naming March as American Red Cross Month, do here and now urge all citizens of this community to contribute without reservation to the 1945 Red Cross War Fund through the local chapter; I further urge that they remember that the war is not yet won; and that when the peace comes the Red Cross must still, through its War Fund, maintain itself to work for the better interests of the American people in the post-war world.

NO CANDIDATES YET FOR COUNTY OFFICES; EARLY PRIMARY JUNE 19

No candidates have announced their intentions of running in the primary election for any of the four major county offices or numerous district offices to be filled this year, although petitions may go into circulation Saturday, March 10.

In other years it has not been unusual for a number of office seekers to announce their intentions in January or February.

Candidates may secure their petitions March 10 for circulation until April 9 when they must be returned to the county board of elections. Under a bill passed recently by the state Assembly and now awaiting the signature of Governor Martin, the primary election this year will be held June 19 instead of in September as was the case in years past.

To Elect President Judge

The date was advanced three months to allow ballots to be returned by men and women in the service and to give them the opportunity to vote also in the regular election in November.

Chief of the county officials to be elected this fall is the president judge, a position held for the last 10 years by W. C. Sheely. The president judge, who serves both Adams and Fulton counties, is elected for a 10-year term.

Other county offices to be filled will be those of county treasurer, now held by John W. Brehm; clerk of the courts, now held by Mrs. Howard W. Sheffer, and the associate judgeship held by A. Dale Knouse. Under the Pennsylvania law, the county treasurer cannot succeed himself, but each of the other (Please Turn to Page 5)

GIRLS TOLD OF CADET NURSING

The opportunities of the nursing profession for girls is being explained to the pupils of the three upper classes of the county's eight high schools this week by Mrs. Martha C. Forejt, assistant general secretary of the Pennsylvania State Nurses' association, Harrisburg.

Mrs. Forejt is being accompanied on her tour of the schools by Mrs. Elizabeth S. Ridler, chairman of student recruitment for the local nursing council for war service. Tuesday, talks were given in the East Berlin, New Oxford and Gettysburg high schools and today visits were made to the Biglerville, Arentsville and Fairfield high schools.

Thursday the two women will go to the York Springs and Littlestown high schools. In addition to explaining the Cadet Nurse program, Mrs. Forejt displays a motion picture of which the star is Dorothy McGuire.

Mrs. Forejt said today that the state has a quota of 6,300 new students for the nursing program for the year under the increased demands of nurses for the armed forces. Eligible students may apply for training at any one of the 125 approved schools in Pennsylvania, or other states. They receive a free professional nurse education, official Cadet uniforms for optional outdoor wear, school uniforms, room and board and monthly allowances ranging up to at least $30 per month as a Senior Cadet.

G. N. Flynn Promoted To Second Lieutenant

G. Noel Flynn, husband of Mrs. Rebecca (Swisher) Flynn and son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Flynn, Baltimore street, has been promoted to second lieutenant in Italy.

Lt. Flynn, who has been in Italy for a year and a half, is now attached to a medical administration corps. He went overseas in August, 1942. Lt. Flynn was inducted in March, 1941.

The direct commission became effective February 24.

COMPLIANCE ON CURFEW RULING IS SOUGHT HERE

An advisory committee including the sheriff and representatives of each borough in the county was announced today and is charged with the duty of securing local compliance with the federal midnight curfew.

The committee was made known by E. A. Crouse, manager of the local office of the U. S. Employment Service, through whom local officials may report violations of the curfew ruling for forwarding to the War Manpower Commission office in Lancaster for investigation and action.

Mr. Crouse said borough authorities are expected to assist the area director of the War Manpower Commission, Wilbur P. Gallatin, in enforcing the midnight curfew ruling on entertainment places throughout this county. The curfew order became effective at midnight Monday.

Ask Self-Policing

Violations should be reported to Mr. Gallatin directly or relayed to him through the USES office on Baltimore street. When a report of a violation is received from an official source, the WMC will investigate to determine whether the violation is "willful," Mr. Crouse said.

"The WMC policy is to request representatives of the activities concerned, the burgesses, the sheriffs or their representatives to assist us in making this order effective," Mr. Crouse explained. "We also expect to secure assistance through this committee in promoting 'self-policing' of each community to insure compliance."

The committee for this county includes: Mr. Gallatin; Sheriff John E. Millhimes; Mr. Crouse; Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer, of Gettysburg; Ernest D. Bushman, of Arentsville; W. B. Delap, of Bendersville; J. Hoke Slaybaugh, of Biglerville; Birds Jacobs, East Berlin; H. L. Harbaugh, Fairfield; Evan M. Appier, Littlestown; Richard Cratin, McSherrystown; Guy Klingel, New Oxford; Amos H. Kuhn, Abbottstown borough secretary, and Ralph Myers, York Springs borough council president.

TIMOTHY F. DAY EXPIRES AT 68

Timothy F. Day, 68, formerly of Bendersville, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Marian (Day) Baugher, 1631 Swatara street, Harrisburg, Tuesday morning at 10:15 o'clock from a heart attack. Mr. and Mrs. Day resided with their daughter for the last year.

The deceased was born in Adams county and lived most of his life in the Bendersville community. He was a son of the late Timothy F. and Mary (Starnes) Day. Mr. Day conducted a store at Mt. Tabor for nine years and was a retired fruit grower and farmer. He was a police sergeant at the capitol in Harrisburg for five years during the Earle administration.

Mr. Day was a member of the Gettysburg Aerle of Eagles, the Bendersville fire company and the Bethlehem Lutheran church. He was a Democratic committee-man from Bendersville for many years.

Surviving are his widow, the former Minnie Minter; one daughter, Mrs. Baugher; one grandchild, Willa Baugher; one brother, J. W. Day, Palmyra, and one step-sister, Mrs. Carl Black, Gardners R. 1. A number of nephews and nieces also survive.

Funeral services from the Routsong-Dugan funeral home Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock conducted by the Rev. Dr. H. D. Hoover. Interment in the Bendersville cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

4 Allied Armies Are Surging Ahead

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(Associated Press War Editor)

The greatest western front victory since Normandy was reported in prospect today as four armies surged ahead in flaming engagements, with the Germans reported surrendering at the rate of from 5,000 to 10,000 a day.

Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's Ninth Army poured toward the Rhine and a juncture with the Canadian offensive to the north, a thrust which could trap thousands of the enemy's best troops. Its movements were cloaked in a breakthrough news blackout which could hide momentous events, and the only resistance mentioned officially was described as "negligible to moderate."

Seize Erft Bridge Intact

The rapid, fluid battle on the Cologne plain was described in field dispatches as the nearest approach to a rout since the Normandy pursuit. The First Army has seized intact a bridge across the Erft river, in a swift move which a front report said caught the Germans off guard. Here the First was only eight miles from rubble Cologne and the Rhine.

Simpson's troops, last officially reported 13 miles from Duesseldorf, have captured many towns and 8,203 prisoners in the first six days of the offensive. Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First Army captured 60 towns and 6,000 prisoners in that period.

To the north the Canadian First Army moved southward from captured Calcar into the Hochwald area against savage resistance, within big gun range of the Ruhr, and Gen. H. D. G. Crerar described the enemy in this sector as "in a bad way."

Red Drive Grinds On

In the center of the western front, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army, threatening to envelop Fortresses Trier from three sides, advanced 3 1/2 miles on a 50-mile front toward the middle Rhine. The Saar river bridgehead was deepened to six miles eastward.

In the east the Germans announced the evacuation of Neustettin, major Nazi defense center in Pomerania by-passed by the Russians in their drive toward the Baltic. The city is 90 miles east of Stettin and 40 from the Baltic.

A Reuters dispatch said Russian spearheads had reached the Danzig-Stettin coastal road, within sight of the sea. But Moscow accounts said fierce counterattacks had slowed the drive in this region.

German resistance crumbled into a near rout as four Allied armies surged ahead on the flaming western front.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First Army tanks and infantry moved so swiftly on the Erft bridge that the enemy was caught off guard, a field dispatch said.

A breakthrough blackout cloaked movements of Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's Ninth Army, last reported 13 miles from Duesseldorf, now in artillery range.

To the south Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's armor and infantry advanced 3 1/2 miles against Fortresses Trier and were 5 1/2 miles from that objective. The Saar river bridgehead was expanded to six miles.

Nazi Lines Waver

High School Girls Set 'Y' Drive Record

Four Gettysburg high school girls who reside in Orrtanna conducted the YWCA canvass in that community this month and collected a total of $72.60, the largest sum gathered in any "Y" drive in that community in many years and possibly the largest amount ever raised in cash for that cause in Orrtanna.

The canvassers were Misses Alice Tressler, chairman; Winifred Naugle, Larita Shelley and Janice Rebert.

seriously in the east, where Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's Second White Russian Army has driven 44 miles northwestward into Pomerania in four days, capturing Bublitz, 22 miles from the enemy's last escape route between Danzig and Stettin. This drive threatened to isolate large forces of Germans in the Danzig, Polish corridor and eastern Pomerania areas, and also brought a new menace to Stettin, Berlin's Baltic port.

For the 16th straight day the Allied non-stop air offensive battered Germany's crumbling railway system. During the night two-ton blockbusters rained on Berlin in the eighth consecutive night attack on the Reich capital.

Ruhr Endangered

German radio stations sounded alarms early in the day, indicating a new two-way blow from north and south.

In Italy, Brazilian forces operating on the right flank of the U. S. 10th Division southwest of Bologna have occupied Senevoglio after a short, unresisted advance. Elsewhere, operations were limited to patrolling.

The U. S. Ninth and Canadian First Armies threatened to outflank the biggest sector of the Siegfried line still held by the Germans, between Arnheim and the Moselle. The Ninth, cutting a highway between Muenchen Gladbach and Roermond, has captured Waldnie in a 10-mile advance, and at last reports was 30 miles from a juncture with the Canadians, imperiling the entire industrial Ruhr.

The First Army was astride the Hitler superhighway on the way to Cologne.

In the south, the U. S. Seventh Army still was fighting for Forbach, gateway to the Saar.

A juncture of Marshal Rokossovsky's troops menacing Danzig with those of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's right flank loomed today, threatening Stettin.

Lieut. Garry Leonard, 19, a former member of the Army Air Corps college training detachment (aircrew) at Gettysburg college, was killed over Germany February 6, friends in town have learned.

Lieutenant Leonard was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Leonard, Hackensack, N. J. He was stationed at the local school from the end of August, 1943, until December 4, 1943, when he finished his aircrew pre-flight training.

After completing his course at Gettysburg, Lieutenant Leonard reported to Nashville, Tenn., to a reclassification center, and was assigned to navigators' school. He trained at Montgomery, Ala., and Valdosta, Ga., in navigation work and went to gunnery school at Fort Myers, Fla. He graduated from the Army Air Forces navigators' school at San Marcos, Texas, last fall.

The young aviator then trained with his crew at Dyersburg, Tenn., and went overseas in January. Friends have received letters from him dated February 5 in which he said he had not yet been on any bombing missions. If the report of his death is correct, he would have lost his life on his first over the continent.

Jap Banzai
Charge Near
Nip Bastion

By FRED HAMPSON
Manila, Feb. 28 (AP)—Screaming Japanese, attacking behind the heaviest artillery barrage in the growing battle for the Marikina watershed east of Manila, launched a large-scale banzai charge against elements of the American Sixth Infantry Division today.

The Nipponese were beaten off with heavy losses.
The banzai attack occurred near Montalban, 12 miles northeast of Manila and close to the northern end of elaborately prepared enemy defenses along the watershed.

Clash Japs from Manila
The Sixth and First (dis-mounted) Cavalry Divisions found the Japanese entrenched in a series of caves and interconnected pill-boxes along a knife-edge ridge of the Sierra Madre mountains, reaching 13 miles from the foothills of Mount Oro to Antipolo.

Grim American infantrymen spraying liquid fire cleaned out Japanese in Manila's legislative building, but suicide squads continued to hold out in the finance and agriculture buildings.

Thirty-seventh Division troops occupied all of the legislative structure this morning after a nighttime artillery barrage broke up a concentration of Japanese machineguns on the second floor. Flame throwers, drums of gasoline and thermite grenades finished the job.

Verde Capture
In the remaining enemy-held buildings, some Japanese committed suicide and others were killed by their own officers as they tried to escape.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced, meanwhile, the complete destruction of the enemy on little Verde island, between Luzon and Mindoro, and the virtual end of the Corregidor garrison.

Triangle-shaped Verde, midway in the Verde island passage, was invaded Sunday.

This cleared the western end of the main navigational route through the central Philippines. Other Yank forces secured the eastern side last week by invading Capul and Biri islands.

On Iwo Isle

By LIEF ERICKSON
U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Guam, Feb. 28 (AP)—Marines along a line bisecting Iwo kept the pressure today on the Japanese in a supreme effort to crack a foe known to be short of water and believed to be hoarding ammunition.

After noticeably slackening artillery and mortar fire Monday, the Japanese loosed a heavy barrage Tuesday at leathernecks straightening out their line with slight advances north up high ground blanketed by pillboxes and blockhouses.

The Marine line, manned by three divisions, cuts across the island's center at the north end of the fighter airfield where the Nipponese still hold a fingertip's grasp after a week of battling over that base.

As the fight for the island entered its tenth day, Japanese dug in on the higher northern half still showed a marked power to resist, although they have been shelled incessantly from the sea, bombed from the air and pounded by artillery.

They even have tanks left on the barren island where enemy positions have been raked by the 16-inch guns of battleships and blasted by dive-bombers which pinpoint their targets. Monday night Marine artillery broke up a tank-led counter-attack.

$300 Damage In Three-Car Crash

Approximately $300 damage resulted from an accident involving three automobiles about three miles east of Littlestown on the Hanover road early this morning, state police from the local substation reported.

The accident occurred about 6:30 o'clock when a car driven by Walter R. Dugan, Littlestown R. 2, collided with a second machine driven by Margaret Doss, Littlestown R. 1. Dugan struck the Doss machine head on, the officers reported, as he attempted to go around the parked car of Joseph Spiridon, Hanover R. 1. Spiridon was parked on the road because of motor trouble.

No one was injured. Dugan will be arrested and arraigned before Justice of the Peace Howard G. Blocher, Littlestown, the police said.

On the eve of the most urgent war fund campaign in its history, which involves the largest quota yet assigned to it, the Adams County Red Cross appealed to solicitors and contributors in all parts of the county to keep inviolate Adams county's record of never having failed to raise its quota in either the present or the last World War, and not in a single emergency in the intervening years.

Mrs. Elsie Singmaster Lewars, chairman of the county chapter, urged the campaign teams in all the districts of the county to start their solicitations immediately on March 1.

"I have not the slightest doubt but that our $28,000 quota will not only be raised but that it will be oversubscribed. Adams county has never failed to fulfill its obligation to maintain the world's greatest humanitarian service—the Red Cross. I know they will not fail this year," Mrs. Lewars asserted.

Ask Larger Gifts

"Nevertheless, our task is greater than ever before. We have a larger fund to raise. We have fewer people to canvass the county and they have less time than ever before to devote to this cause. It is for these reasons that I urge all solicitors to start immediately on the opening day of the drive—tomorrow, March 1—and to complete their assignments as quickly as possible.

"I appeal also to every citizen of Adams county to make the work of the solicitors as little difficult as possible. We hope the contributions of last year can be increased sufficiently to enable us to meet our higher quota. Few Adams county families fail to contribute to the Red Cross war fund each year, so we must depend on much the same people, as heretofore, to raise the greater sum that is required this year.

"Those who care to send their checks to our Red Cross office may do so in perfect confidence that the subscriptions will be credited to their districts and to the proper solicitors. In many cases, this procedure will greatly facilitate matters and be of inestimable help to all solicitors.

"We'll Top The Quota"

"Let me assure all solicitors and contributors that the American Red Cross, our county chapter and our men and women in the service, to the service and care of whom the Red Cross has dedicated itself, humbly and sincerely appreciate your enthusiastic support and co-operation in this great undertaking."

Henry M. Scharf, war fund chairman, expressed certainty that the $28,000 quota will be raised.

"Adams county will not only fulfill its duty in this regard, but will be 'over the top' long before March 31, the last day of the campaign," he predicted.

"It is not a question of whether the $28,000 will be raised—it is merely a question of how many days it will take to raise it. Our district chairmen, all over the county, are anxious to complete the drive by March 15—just to show the nearly 4,000 Adams county men and women in the service on all battlefronts of the world that there is no delay or hesitancy on the part of their home folk to keep all the care, the considerations and the humanitarian attentions that combine to make Red Cross service something that is tangible and real to them at their side."

Here And There
News Collected At Random

When the Red Cross solicitors call on you for your 1945 contribution beginning Thursday of this week you will definitely be helping the war effort if you have your contribution ready. Be as liberal as you can because the Red Cross needs more money now than it ever did in its long years of humane service.

Adams county is asked to raise $28,000. This should be done within a week . . . and it can be accomplished if each wage earner will give SOMETHING. Those who have limited means need not be ashamed of their donation. Those of more modest means should contribute more this year than they ever did. Without your financial support the Red Cross cannot help the men and women who are win-

Wounded

Pvt. John J. Baltzley, 24, husband of Mrs. Mary K. Baltzley, Harrisburg, was slightly wounded January 21 in France. He has been overseas since last November. Two brothers and a sister are also serving in the armed forces. Pvt. Baltzley is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Baltzley, 224 Steinwehr avenue.

COUNTIANS ON CASUALTY LIST

Pfc. Ellis A. Shindeldecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shindeldecker, Fairfield, was wounded in the Asiatic war zone, his parents have been informed.

He is now reported to be convalescing in a hospital in Burma. The Fairfield soldier was inducted into the service on January 8, 1943, and went overseas in May of that year. He received his training at an army camp in Alabama.

Sailor Injured

Donald E. Staub, 22, shipfitter second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Staub, York street, recently received second and third degree burns of the foot while doing a welding job on a ship in the South Pacific, his parents have learned by mail.

Young Staub wrote his parents that he was burned by a hot welding rod which dropped on his foot as he was doing an overhead welding job on the patrol craft to which he is assigned. He was taken to a base hospital at a port in the South Pacific and treated by a Navy doctor, after which he returned to his ship. While on ship he was treated by a pharmacist's mate, the injured sailor wrote.

He has been on sea duty in the Pacific for 20 months. He enlisted in the Navy in November 1942, and was called to active duty in January 1943. Before going into the (Please Turn to Page 2)

Eleanor Wickerham
Awarded $10 Prize

Eleanor Wickerham, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Wickerham, Broadway, a pupil in the sixth grade at the Lincoln school, was awarded a prize of $10 in war savings stamps for selling the most bonds of any grade school pupil in the county during the Sixth War Loan drive.

The award was made at the Lincoln school this morning by Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent of schools, and education chairman for the county War Finance committee. Eleanor sold a total of 20 bonds to 14 different people to qualify for the honor.

Red Cross Proclamation

WHEREAS, American fighting men the world over are giving to the last ounce of their strength in the effort to free the world of dictatorship, and

WHEREAS, the American home front is striving through its war industries, its manpower and its moral support to stand firmly behind the armed forces, and

WHEREAS, the American Red Cross is serving our fighting men at home and overseas, as well, by means of understanding, friendly men and women trained especially for their duties, and

WHEREAS, the American Red Cross assists servicemen's families in the United States as well as serving those in uniform, and

WHEREAS, the American people through the Red Cross have sent 10,000,000 pints of blood to our wounded, thus forming a veritable life-line between us and them, and

WHEREAS, the American Red Cross is ready to give assistance in the event of any natural or man-made disaster on the home front.

THEREFORE I, Fred G. Pfeffer, Burgess of Gettysburg, in accordance with the proclamation of the President of the United States, naming March as American Red Cross Month, do here and now urge all citizens of this community to contribute without reservation to the 1945 Red Cross War Fund through the local chapter; I further urge that they remember that the war is not yet won; and that when the peace comes the Red Cross must still, through its War Fund, maintain itself to work for the better interests of the American people in the post-war world.

No candidates have announced their intentions of running in the primary election for any of the four major county offices or numerous district offices to be filled this year, although petitions may go into circulation Saturday, March 10.

In other years it has not been unusual for a number of office seekers to announce their intentions in January or February.

Candidates may secure their petitions March 10 for circulation until April 9 when they must be returned to the county board of elections. Under a bill passed recently by the state Assembly and now awaiting the signature of Governor Martin, the primary election this year will be held June 19 instead of in September as was the case in years past.

To Elect President Judge

The date was advanced three months to allow ballots to be returned by men and women in the service and to give them the opportunity to vote also in the regular election in November.

Chief of the county officials to be elected this fall is the president judge, a position held for the last 10 years by W. C. Sheely. The president judge, who serves both Adams and Fulton counties, is elected for a 10-year term.

Other county offices to be filled will be those of county treasurer, now held by John W. Brehm; clerk of the courts, now held by Mr. Howard W. Sheffer, and the associate judgeship held by A. Dale Knouse. Under the Pennsylvania law, the county treasurer cannot succeed himself, but each of the other (Please Turn to Page 5)

GIRLS TOLD OF CADET NURSING

The opportunities of the nursing profession for girls is being explained to the pupils of the three upper classes of the county's eight high schools this week by Mrs. Martha C. Forejt, assistant general secretary of the Pennsylvania State Nurses association, Harrisburg.

Mrs. Forejt is being accompanied on her tour of the schools by Mrs. Elizabeth S. Ridler, chairman of student recruitment for the local nursing council for war service. Tuesday, talks were given in the East Berlin, New Oxford and Gettysburg high schools and today visits were made to the Biglerville, Ardenstville and Fairfield high schools.

Thursday the two women will go to the York Springs and Littlestown high schools. In addition to explaining the Cadet Nurse program, Mrs. Forejt displays a motion picture of which the star is Dorothy McGuire.

Mrs. Forejt said today that the state has a quota of 6,000 new students for the nursing program for the year under the increased demands of nurses for the armed forces. Eligible students may apply for training at any one of the 125 approved schools in Pennsylvania, or other states. They receive a free professional nursing education, official Cadet uniforms for optional outdoor wear, school uniforms, room and board and monthly allowances ranging up to at least $30 per month as a Senior Cadet.

G. N. Flynn Promoted To Second Lieutenant

G. Noel Flynn, husband of Mrs. Rebecca (Swisher) Flynn and son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Flynn, Baltimore street, has been promoted to second lieutenant in Italy.

Lt. Flynn, who has been in Italy for a year and a half, is now attached to a medical administration corps. He went overseas in August, 1942. Lt. Flynn was inducted in March, 1941.

The direct commission became effective February 24.

COMPLIANCE ON CURFEW RULING IS SOUGHT HERE

An advisory committee including the sheriff and representatives of each borough in the county was announced today and is charged with the duty of securing local compliance with the federal midnight curfew.

The committee was made known by E. A. Crouse, manager of the local office of the U. S. Employment Service, through whom local officials may report violations of the curfew ruling for forwarding to the War Manpower Commission office in Lancaster for investigation and action.

Mr. Crouse said borough authorities are expected to assist the area director of the War Manpower Commission, Wilbur P. Gallatin, in enforcing the midnight curfew ruling on entertainment places throughout this county. The curfew order became effective at midnight Monday.

Ask Self-Policing

Violations should be reported to Mr. Gallatin directly or relayed to him through the USES office on Baltimore street. When a report of a violation is received from an official source, the WMC will investigate to determine whether the violation is "willful," Mr. Crouse said.

"The WMC policy is to request representatives of the activities concerned, the burgesses, the sheriffs or their representatives to assist us in making this order effective," Mr. Crouse explained. "We also expect to secure assistance through this committee in promoting 'self-policing' of each community to insure compliance."

The committee for this county includes: Mr. Gallatin; Sheriff John E. Millhous; Mr. Crouse; Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer, of Gettysburg; Ernest D. Bushman, of Ardenstville; W. B. Delap, of Bendersville; J. Hoke Slaybaugh, of Biglerville; Birdes Kauch, East Berlin; H. L. Harbaugh, Fairfield; Evan M. Appler, Littlestown; Richard Cratin, McSherrystown; Guy Klingel, New Oxford; Amos H. Kuhn, Abbottstown borough secretary, and Ralph Myers, York Springs borough council president.

TIMOTHY F. DAY EXPIRES AT 68

Timothy F. Day, 68, formerly of Bendersville, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Marian (Day) Baugher, 1631 Swatara street, Harrisburg, Tuesday morning at 10:15 o'clock from a heart attack. Mr. and Mrs. Day resided with their daughter for the last year.

The deceased was born in Adams county and lived most of his life in the Bendersville community. He was a son of the late Timothy F. and Mary (Starn) Day. Mr. Day conducted a store at Mt. Tabor for nine years and was a retired fruit grower and farmer. He was a police sergeant at the capitol in Harrisburg for five years during the Earle administration.

Mr. Day was a member of the Gettysburg Aerie of Eagles, the Bendersville fire company and the Bethlehem Lutheran church. He was a Democratic committee-man from Bendersville for many years.

Surviving are his widow, the former Minnie Minter; one daughter, Mrs. Baugher; one grandchild, Wilma Baugher; one brother, J. W. Day, Palmyra, and one step-sister, Mrs. Carl Black, Gardners R. 1. A number of nephews and nieces also survive.

Funeral services from the Routsong-Dugan funeral home Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock conducted by the Rev. Dr. H. D. Hoover. Interment in the Bendersville cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

4 Allied Armies Are Surging Ahead

By WILLIAM L. RYAN (Associated Press War Editor)

The greatest western front victory since Normandy appeared in prospect today as four armies surged ahead in flaming engagements, with the Germans reported surrendering at the rate of from 5,000 to 10,000 a day.

Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's Ninth Army poured toward the Rhine and a juncture with the Canadian offensive to the north, a thrust which could trap thousands of the enemy's best troops. Its movements were cloaked in a breakthrough news blackout which could hide momentous events, and the only resistance mentioned officially was described as "negligible to moderate."

Seize Erft Bridge Intact

The rapid, fluid battle on the Cologne plain was described in field dispatches as the nearest approach to a rout since the Normandy pursuit. The First Army has seized intact a bridge across the Erft river, in a swift move which a front report said caught the Germans off guard. Here the First was only eight miles from bubbled Cologne and the Rhine.

Simpson's troops, last officially reported 13 miles from Duesseldorf, have captured many towns and 8,203 prisoners in the first six days of the offensive. Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First Army captured 60 towns and 6,000 prisoners in that period.

To the north the Canadian First Army moved southward from captured Calcar into the Hochwald area against savage resistance, within big gun range of the Ruhr, and Gen. H. D. G. Crerar described the enemy in this sector as "in a bad way."

Red Drive Grinds On

In the center of the western front, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army, threatening to envelop Fortresses Trier from three sides, advanced 3 1/2 miles on a 50-mile front toward the middle Rhine. The Saar river bridgehead was deepened to six miles eastward.

In the east the Germans announced the evacuation of Neustettin, major Nazi defense center in Pomerania by-passed by the Russians in their drive toward the Baltic. The city is 90 miles east of Stettin and 40 from the Baltic.

A Reuters dispatch said Russian spearheads had reached the Danzig-Stettin coastal road, within sight of the sea. But Moscow accounts said fierce counterattacks had slowed the drive in this region.

German resistance crumbled into a near rout as four Allied armies surged ahead on the flaming western front.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First Army tanks and infantry moved so swiftly on the Erft bridge that the enemy was caught off guard, a field dispatch said.

A breakthrough blackout cloaked movements of Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's Ninth Army, last reported 13 miles from Duesseldorf, now in artillery range.

To the south Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's armor and infantry advanced 3 1/2 miles against Fortresses Trier and were 3 1/2 miles from that objective. The Saar river bridgehead was expanded to six miles.

Nazi Lines Waver

High School Girls Set 'Y' Drive Record

Four Gettysburg high school girls who reside in Orrtanna conducted the YWCA canvass in that community this month and collected a total of $72.60, the largest sum gathered in any "Y" drive in that community in many years and possibly the largest amount ever raised in cash for that cause in Orrtanna.

The canvassers were Misses Alice Tressler, chairman; Winifred Naugle, Larita Shelley and Janice Rebert.

FORMER CADET HERE KILLED

Lieut. Garry Leonard, 19, a former member of the Army Air Corps college training detachment (aircrew) at Gettysburg college, was killed over Germany February 6, friends in town have learned.

Lieutenant Leonard was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Leonard, Hackensack, N. J. He was stationed at the local school from the end of August, 1943, until December 4, 1943, when he finished his aircrew pre-flight training.

After completing his course at Gettysburg, Lieutenant Leonard reported to Nashville, Tenn., to a reclassification center, and was assigned to navigators' school. He trained at Montgomery, Ala., and Valdosta, Ga., in navigation work and went to gunnery school at Fort Myers, Fla. He graduated from the Army Air Forces navigators' school at San Marcos, Texas, last fall.

The young airman then trained with his crew at Dyersburg, Tenn., and went overseas in January. Friends have received letters from him dated February 5 in which he said he had not yet been on any bombing missions. If the report of his death is correct, he would have lost his life on his flight over the continent.

CHURCHILL WAS CONVINCING ON BIG THREE UNITY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(Associated Press Writer)
The most impressive feature of British Prime Minister Churchill's speech in Commons yesterday, as I see it, was the convincing picture he drew of a Big Three which is sincerely determined to stand together for the purpose of compelling the world by force if necessary to maintain peace.
That's a new approach to the paramount problem of the day—the outlawing of war. Only three cooks this time to make the broth, and that gives it a chance. As Churchill said, "it is their duty to preserve the world, not to rule it," but while he disavowed any "dictatorship of the great powers" he might have added in truth that among them they have the physical strength to make the world behave—or to stand it on its head, if they want to.

Dependent On Unity
If that seems to smack of strong-arm work, let it smack. We failed to preserve peace with an unwieldy league of nations, and the consensus now seems to be to try the new idea. It obviously will work so long as the Big Three don't quarrel among themselves and Churchill emphasized their unity.

In presenting this picture the Prime Minister declared that the United States would play "a vitally important part" in the new world security league, "which will not shrink from establishing its will against the evil doer" by force of arms. Also in discussing peace in the Arab world and the middle East generally, he said the United States is "taking an increasing interest in these regions."

This means, if it means anything, that America is greatly extending her participation in foreign affairs.

Praise For Eden
Churchill's speech of course was in the main defensive, to meet adverse criticism from his political opponents. Arthur Greenwood, one of the labor leaders in commons, called the address one of the premier's "most masterly." Well, maybe it was, but having followed Churchill's speeches for close to thirty years it strikes me that he has made better ones. Being a great admirer of his oratorical and debating ability I doubt if he ever made a poor speech, but yesterday's wasn't his top form.

As a political defense it undoubtedly will get him the vote of confidence which he has demanded from Commons. It would be amazing if parliament decided to change Prime Ministers just as the Allies are starting to administer the coup de grace to Germany.

However, as a sidelight which may indicate that Churchill sees his tenure of office won't last forever, he went out of his way to give highest praise to Foreign Minister Anthony Eden. The latter is largely talked of as the next Prime Minister, and it looks as though Churchill were giving his blessings to this outstanding young statesman.

SOROPTIMISTS SHOWN SLIDES

The pictures shown by Miss Adams were taken about five years ago by John Jobe, of Covena, Calif., a former county resident. Mr. Jobe is a brother of Mrs. Harry Houck, who recently moved from her home on Hanover street to San Diego, Calif., where she now is residing with her daughter, Mrs. Everett Bennett.

Included in the slides were pictures from practically all of the European and Asiatic countries. The club president, Mrs. John H. Pape, presided at the short business session Mrs. Guyon Buehler led the devotionals and group singing. Included in the program were two piano solos played by Mrs. Genevieve Cluck Segal, of McKnightstown. She played a Brahms' composition and the "Coming of Spring," by Rolfe.

Mrs. Corinne Lambert, of Wooster, Mass., was a guest of Mrs. Fred Grist, Sr., Flora Dale. Mrs. Charles Garland, of Dayton, Ohio, and Mrs. William Hersh were guests of Mrs. David Blocher, and Mrs. Joseph Heiney was a guest of Miss Mary Ramer.

The next regular business meeting of the group will be held March 13 at the home of Mrs. Wilmer Bream, near Biglerville.

Services Held For Mrs. Calvin Smith

Funeral services for Mrs. Calvin R. Smith, who died at her home near Hunterstown Saturday morning, were held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at her home with the Rev. U. A. Guss, supply pastor for Great Coneyago Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment in the church cemetery.

Funeral services were Frank McElhenny, Robert Cleveland, Herbert Zepp, Luther Plank, Howard Fidler and Roy Weaver.

Asks Taxpayers Avoid Final Rush

Thomas McSherry, deputy collector of internal revenue for this district, released his request today that all taxpayers who have not yet completed their 1944 returns of 1945 estimates should do so at the earliest possible moment.

"With the March 15 deadline just two full business weeks from today, a great number of taxpayers are going to have to complete their returns within the next few days if we are to avoid a serious last-minute rush," Mr. McSherry said.

He urged that as many as possible persons seeking help from the revenue office on the second floor of the postoffice building should try to call there before the end of the week. Mr. McSherry and an assistant from the Philadelphia office will help taxpayers in completing their returns.

The office will be open from 9 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock every afternoon, each day of the week including Saturdays. Both the final 1944 returns and estimates of income in 1945 must be filed by March 15.

Epley Lauded By Platoon Sergeant

Mrs. C. W. Epley, Chambersburg street, received a V-mail letter today from the platoon sergeant of her son, Lt. Clarence W. "Reds" Epley, Jr., who was wounded in action in Germany February 9 by a land mine.

The sergeant, Walter Schmitt, wrote in part, "I am your son's platoon sergeant and it was by his request that I drop you this V-mail to let you know that he is feeling fine. He was afraid that you might be worried about him for he has not written in the past week. I saw him yesterday in the hospital and he is doing very nicely.
"I want you to know that my platoon thinks a lot about you and I personally think he is a swell guy and a good officer. He has done a very good job over here and I am sure you are proud of him."

Pfc. Donald Kiick Wounded In Action

Pfc. Donald W. Kiick, 31-year-old infantryman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Kiick, Hanover, was slightly wounded in action in Germany on February 7, according to a War Department telegram received by his wife, Mrs. Ruth Weikert Kiick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Weikert, New Oxford. Mrs. Kiick and their two children, William, nine, and Edward, four, live in Glen Rock.

Pfc. Kiick managed the A. & P. store in Hanover some years ago, and was manager of a similar store in Glen Rock before going into the armed forces. He was inducted into the army on April 29, 1944, and trained at Camp Croft, S. C. He was home on furlough following his basic training and then reported to Fort George G. Meade, Md.

Pfc. Kiick went overseas on January 1, this year. He went first to France and then to Luxembourg and Germany. His brother, Charles Kiick, SC 1-c, has been receiving his mail in care of the fleet post office, New York city, since January 25.

State assistance for typhoid fever carriers unable to pursue their usual occupations or lacking resources is provided in a bill introduced by Assemblyman Francis Worley. It is up for final action in the House today at Harrisburg.

The measure provides $600 a year for such persons with the proviso that applications must be renewed each year. The state secretary of health could suspend payments at any time recipients declined to take treatment.

Seriously Wounded
Pvt. Franklin R. Gruver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gruver, East Berlin R. 3, was seriously wounded in action in Germany Feb. 8, according to a telegram received by his parents Friday evening. The telegram stated that further details on the soldier's condition would follow direct from the hospital to which he had been assigned.

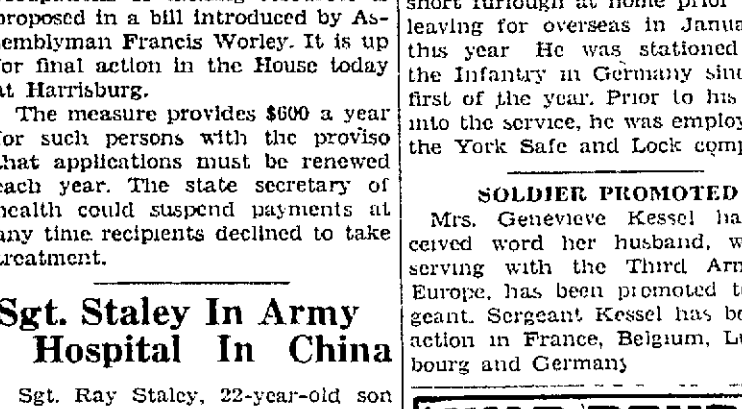

Pvt. Gruver was inducted into the army in June, 1944 and received basic training at New Cumberland and Camp Wheeler, Ga. He spent a short furlough at home prior to his leaving for overseas in January of this year. He was stationed with the Infantry in Germany since the first of the year. Prior to his entry into the service, he was employed by the York Safe and Lock company.

SOLDIER PROMOTED

Mrs. Genevieve Kessel has received word her husband, who is serving with the Third Army in Europe, has been promoted to sergeant. Sergeant Kessel has been in action in France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany.

WAR BONDS in Action

They dropped from the skies in the dark of night onto enemy territory, each man carrying with him parts of this bazooka rocket gun and rockets, all supplied by War Bond dollars. These men are elite troops; have one of the toughest tasks in the Army.

I know what it means

I know what it means for a war plant to plead for a vital repair part... for a wounded boy to phone his mother from a military hospital... for an expectant mother to search frantically for her doctor... for a whole town to cry out in distress when flood waters bring disaster.

These appeals are a pattern of the telephone service flowing through my finger tips. Now, when wartime brings the largest telephone traffic in history, your cooperation and understanding will help us give you better service.

CHURCHILL WAS CONVINCING ON BIG THREE UNITY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

The most impressive feature of British Prime Minister Churchill's speech in Commons yesterday, as I see it, was the convincing picture he drew of a Big Three which is sincerely determined to stand together for the purpose of compelling the world (by force if necessary) to maintain peace.

That's a new approach to the paramount problem of the day—the outlawing of war. Only three cooks this time to make the broth, and that gives it a chance. As Churchill said, "It is their duty to preserve the world, not to rule it," but while he disavowed any "dictatorship of the great powers" he might have added in truth that among them they have the physical strength to make the world behave—or to stand it on its head, if they want to.

Dependent On Unity

If that seems to smack of strong-arm work, let it smack. We failed to preserve peace with an unwieldy league of nations, and the consensus now seems to be to try the new idea. It obviously will work so long as the Big Three don't quarrel among themselves—and Churchill emphasized their unity.

In presenting this picture the Prime Minister declared that the United States would play "a vitally important part" in the new world security league, "which will not shirk from establishing its will against the evil doer" by force of arms. Also in discussing peace in the Arab world and the middle East generally, he said the United States is "taking an increasing interest in these regions."

This means, if it means anything, that America is greatly extending her participation in foreign affairs.

Praise For Eden

Churchill's speech of course was in the main defensive, to meet adverse criticism from his political opponents. Arthur Greenwood, one of the labor leaders in Commons, calling the address one of the premier's "most masterly." Well, maybe it was, but having followed Churchill's speeches for close to thirty years it strikes me that he has made better ones. Being a great admirer of his oratorical and debating ability I doubt if he ever made a poor speech, but yesterday's wasn't his top form.

As a political defense it undoubtedly will get him the vote of confidence which he has demanded from Commons. It would be amazing if parliament decided to change Prime Ministers just as the Allies are starting to administer the coup de grace to Germany.

However, as a sidelight which may indicate that Churchill sees his tenure of office won't last forever, he went out of his way to give highest praise to Foreign Minister Anthony Eden. The latter is largely talked of as the next Prime Minister, and it looks as though Churchill were giving his blessings to this outstanding young statesman.

SOROPTIMISTS SHOWN SLIDES

The pictures shown by Miss Adams were taken about five years ago by John Jobe, of Covena, Calif., a former county resident. Mr. Jobe is a brother of Mrs. Harry Houck, who recently moved from her home on Hanover street to San Diego, Calif., where she now is residing with her daughter, Mrs. Everett Bennett.

Included in the slides were pictures from practically all of the European and Asiatic countries.

The club president, Mrs. John H. Pape, presided at the short business session. Mrs. Guyon Buehler led the devotionals and group singing. Included in the program were two piano solos played by Mrs. Genevieve Cluck Sigel, of McKnightstown. She played a Brahms' composition and the "Coming of Spring," by Rolfe.

Mrs. Corinne Lambert, of Wooster, Mass., was a guest of Mrs. Fred Griest, Sr., Flora Dale, Mrs. Charles Garland, of Dayton, Ohio, and Mrs. William Hersh were guests of Mrs. David Blocher, and Mrs. Joseph Heiney was a guest of Miss Mary Ramer.

The next regular business meeting of the group will be held March 13 at the home of Mrs. Wilmer Braun, near Biglerville.

Services Held For Mrs. Calvin Smith

Funeral services for Mrs. Calvin R. Smith, who died at her home near Hunterstown Saturday morning, were held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at her home with the Rev. U. A. Guss, supply pastor for Great Congregational Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment in the church cemetery.

Palbearers were Frank McHenry, Robert Cleveland, Herbert Zepp, Luther Plank, Howard Fidler and Roy Weaver.

The Thursday Afternoon club will meet this week with Mrs. C. Richard Wolff, York street.

The Gettysburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will hold their March meeting Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. John A. Mumper, Baltimore street. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Guyon Buehler. She will recount experiences of Mrs. Fannie Buehler in Gettysburg at the time of the battle here.

Asks Taxpayers Avoid Final Rush

Thomas McSherry, deputy collector of internal revenue for this district, requested his request today that all taxpayers who have not yet completed their 1944 returns of 1945 estimates should do so at the earliest possible moment.

"With the March 15 deadline just two full business weeks from today, a great number of taxpayers are going to have to complete their returns within the next few days if we are to avoid a serious last-minute rush," Mr. McSherry said.

He urged that as many as possible persons seeking help from the revenue office on the second floor of the postoffice building should try to call there before the end of the week. Mr. McSherry and an assistant from the Philadelphia office will help taxpayers in completing their returns.

The office will be open from 9 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock every afternoon, each day of the week including Saturdays. Both the final 1944 returns and estimates of income in 1945 must be filed by March 15.

Epley Lauded By Platoon Sergeant

Mrs. C. W. Epley, Chambersburg street, received a V-mail letter today from the platoon sergeant of her son, Lt. Clarence W. "Reds" Epley, Jr., who was wounded in action in Germany February 9 by a land mine.

The sergeant, Walter Schmitt, wrote in part, "I am your son's platoon sergeant and it was by his request that I drop you this v-mail to let you know that he is feeling fine. He was afraid that you might be worried about him for he has not written in the past week. I saw him yesterday in the hospital and he is doing very nicely."

"I want you to know that my platoon thinks a lot about you and I personally think he is a swell guy and a good officer. He has done a very good job over here and I am sure you are proud of him."

BIGLER CHORUS TO GIVE PLAY ON MARCH 1, 2

"An Old Kentucky Garden" will be presented by the mixed chorus of the Biglerville schools Thursday and Friday evenings in the school auditorium under the direction of Prof. Charles L. Yost. The music of this opera is based on the works of Stephen Foster and is adapted and arranged by C. A. Grant Schaefer.

The story of the production is written by Theodosia Paynter. The scene of the story is a Kentucky garden in the year of 1850 where a poor but aristocratic southern family faces disgrace because of a debt their son incurred while in college. Jean Kuhn has the leading female role as "Jeanie" and Daniel Ebbert will portray the role of "Richard," leading man. Ralph Blocher will portray the part of "Philip," Richard's southern friend and Willetta Blair that of "Joy," Philip's girl friend. Gerald Heller will characterize the role of the colonel, "Hannah," a widow, will be played by Julia Yost and "Henry Blow," Edward Utz, "Majundah," a Hindu, will be portrayed by David Pitzer.

Others in cast "Elmina," "William," "Andrew," "Beth," "Alalza," young friends of the family, will be played by Betty Thomas, Charles Ziegler, George Gantz, Dale Ecker, and Esther Muselman. "Lily" and "Tom," colored plantation singers, will be enacted by June Coulson and Jack Baird. "Mr. Moneyfold" and "Mrs. Artichoke," enterprising publishers of music, will be portrayed by Owen Coile and Charles Sherk. "Stephen Foster" will be played by William Jester and the two Hindu dancers will be Earla Mae Shue and Barbara Keller.

J. B. Walter is directing the construction of the scenery which is being done by members of the shop classes. The scenery painting is being done by Miss Caroline Rex with the aid of art class members.

The Rev. and Mrs. H. O. Sipe, Biglerville, are entertaining for two weeks Miss Murrel C. Smith and Mrs. Gulla Logue Roberts, musical evangelists from Lancaster.

The eastern part of Biglerville was without gas service Tuesday due to water seeping into gas mains.

There will be a meeting of Red Cross workers for District 3 (upper Adams county) Thursday evening from 7:30 to 8 o'clock in the Biglerville high school building when H. Earl Pitzer, district chairman, and John Fidler, his assistant, will distribute war fund campaign supplies.

Pfc. Donald Kiick Wounded In Action

Pfc. Donald W. Kiick, 31-year-old infantryman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Kiick, Hanover, was slightly wounded in action in Germany on February 7, according to a War Department telegram received by his wife, Mrs. Ruth Weikert Kiick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Weikert, New Oxford. Mrs. Kiick and their two children, William, nine, and Edward, four, live in Glen Rock.

Pfc. Kiick managed the A. & P. store in Hanover some years ago, and was manager of a similar store in Glen Rock before going into the armed forces. He was inducted into the army on April 29, 1944, and trained at Camp Croft, S. C. He was home on furlough following his basic training and then reported to Fort George G. Meade, Md.

Pfc. Kiick went overseas on January 1, this year. He went first to France and then to Luxembourg and Germany. His brother, Charles Kiick, SC 1-c, has been receiving his mail in care of the fleet post office, New York city, since January 25.

DR ARRIVES HOME FROM YALTA PARLEY

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—President Roosevelt returned today from a Crimean conference with buoyant hopes for an enduring peace and a wide reduction of armaments. Back from a five-week, 14,000-mile journey to Russia by cruiser and plane, Mr. Roosevelt planned to report in person to Congress and the country tomorrow or Friday, on meetings at which he, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin blueprinted "final defeat" of "doomed" Germany and strong machinery for perpetuating eventual peace.

Landed Last Night
An appearance of a United Nations conference opening in San Francisco April 25. As official host, Roosevelt probably will welcome and address the delegates. Another of his periodic meetings with Churchill, after the San Francisco parley has finished its work. British frequently have suggested that the President visit London. Mr. Roosevelt came ashore at an east coast port last night and reached Washington this morning by special train. He left here January 22 for eight days of momentous talks on war and peace in the old summer palace of the Tsars at Yalta. He only other stops on the round trip were in Malta, Egypt and Alexandria. In Egypt, the President conferred with King Farouk and with the rulers of Ethiopia and Saudi Arabia.

To Broadcast Report
The return trip included a speed run through the Straits of Gibraltar a time when Nazi submarines were lurking nearby. Before moving into catch-up conferences and a stack of chores that led up during his absence, Mr. Roosevelt faced a sorrowful interlude—the burial at noon today in Arlington cemetery of Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson, who died at sea February 20 of a cerebral hemorrhage. Watson accompanied the chief Executive to Yalta as secretary and military aide. The accounting to Congress and the nation on the second meeting of the Big Three will be broadcast from the well of the House chamber. It will be his first appearance at the Capitol in more than two years.

Met by Newsmen
At a news conference aboard ship, his cruiser zig-zagged toward American shores, Mr. Roosevelt already had reviewed the Crimean conference and spoken of his aspirations for future world security. He disclosed to reporters for three major news services, who met him in Algiers and traveled home with him, that the original plan for occupation of Germany was for Russia to take over the eastern area, Britain the west and northwest and the United States the south. This country was to have the area below the end of the Rhine at Mainz, including the provinces of Baden, Bavaria and Wurttemberg, with a supply corridor to the sea at Bremen on the north.

The arrangement is subject to change, particularly in the proposed British and American zones, because of a decision to offer France an opportunity to keep a thumb on part of the Reich. The President was not ready to say how long American troops might remain in Germany.

When They're Worthy
Mr. Roosevelt viewed the conference at Yalta as one of a series of steps toward a better world. Almost with exultation, he said the American public and press were quite right in saying with virtual unanimity that the parley was a great achievement.

He said he believed the United Nations organization will develop into the best method ever devised for stopping war and eradicating one of its causes. Mr. Roosevelt even visualized Germany and Japan as future members of the organization, at such time as they have proven themselves worthy of places in it.

But he was insistent that they first must purge themselves, reverse militaristic tendencies they have shown for decades and demonstrate an ability to live peaceably among nations.

Sees Support For Manpower Bill

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—Senator Johnson, (D-Colo.), contended today a majority of the Senate is winging in behind a semi-voluntary manpower control bill. He predicted the measure can be passed this week. The Coloradoan said some senators who favor a stiffer measure incorporating the work-or-jail provisions of legislation the House approved four weeks ago hope to win their point in the give-and-take of two-chamber conference. The Senate, entering its third day of debate, was tugged by two opposing influences. One is a growing desire to pass a bill—almost any manpower control measure—to meet the high command's repeated requests. The other is the openly expressed opinion of some that things are going so well on the battlefronts it might be folly to change the fundamental production rules at home.

The American Red Cross was founded May 21, 1881.

ERNIE PYLE says: "This is your Red Cross"

"Something Fine to Behold"

By Ernie Pyle

EVERYWHERE I went there was the American Red Cross giving its services to our fighting men. It is something fine to behold, this touch of home which the men and women Red Cross workers are able to bring to our troops abroad.

When the Red Cross opens up in a new war theater, its growth has to be as fast as the growth of the Army. The way clubs spring up overnight in newly occupied centers, the way restaurants and dances and movies and clubmobiles and doughnut factories mushroom into life all over a new country, is something that still astonishes me.

Right in the field with their regiments are the Red Cross field directors, who act as a link between the soldiers and their homes.

In most of the hospitals, doing the recreational and welfare work for which the nurses can spare so little time, are the Red Cross hospital girls. With every medical unit are countless quantities of the indispensable blood plasma made from the voluntary blood donations of the American people.

Our soldiers and sailors abroad literally worship the Red Cross, and I personally can find nothing but praise to say about its program as I saw it in operation.

An appearance of a United Nations conference opening in San Francisco April 25. As official host, Mr. Roosevelt probably will welcome and address the delegates.

Another of his periodic meetings with Churchill, after the San Francisco parley has finished its work. The British frequently have suggested that the President visit London.

Mr. Roosevelt came ashore at an east coast port last night and reached Washington this morning by special train. He left here January 22 for eight days of momentous talks on war and peace in the old summer palace of the Tsars at Yalta. The only other stops on the round trip were in Malta, Egypt and Algiers. In Egypt, the President conferred with King Farouk and with the rulers of Ethiopia and Saudi Arabia.

To Broadcast Report

The return trip included a speed run through the Straits of Gibraltar at a time when Nazi submarines were lurking nearby.

Before moving into catch-up conferences and a stack of chores that piled up during his absence, Mr. Roosevelt faced a sorrowful interlude—the burial at noon today in Arlington cemetery of Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson, who died at sea February 20 of a cerebral hemorrhage. Watson accompanied the Chief Executive to Yalta as secretary and military aide.

The accounting to Congress and the nation on the second meeting of the Big Three will be broadcast from the well of the House chamber. It will be his first appearance at the capitol in more than two years.

Met by Newsmen

At a news conference aboard ship, as his cruiser zig-zagged toward American shores, Mr. Roosevelt already had reviewed the Crimean conference and spoken of his aspirations for future world security.

He disclosed to reporters for three major news services, who met him in Algiers and traveled home with him, that the original plan for occupation of Germany was for Russia to take over the eastern area, Britain the west and northwest and the United States the south. This country was to have the area below the bend of the Rhine at Mainz, including the provinces of Baden, Bavaria and Wurttemberg, with a supply corridor to the sea at Bremen on the north.

The arrangement is subject to change, particularly in the proposed British and American zones, because of a decision to offer France an opportunity to keep a thumb on part of the Reich.

The President was not ready to say how long American troops might remain in Germany.

When They're Worth It

Mr. Roosevelt viewed the conference at Yalta as one of a series of steps toward a better world. Almost with exultation, he said the American public and press were quite right in saying with virtual unanimity that the parley was a great achievement.

He said he believed the United Nations organization will develop into the best method ever devised for stopping war and eradicating some of its causes.

Mr. Roosevelt even visualized Germany and Japan as future members of the organization, at such time as they have proven themselves worthy of places in it.

But he was insistent that they first must purge themselves, reverse militaristic tendencies they have shown for decades and demonstrate an ability to live peaceably among nations.

Sees Support For Manpower Bill

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—Senator Johnson, (D-Colo.), contended today a majority of the Senate is swinging in behind a semi-voluntary manpower control bill. He predicted the measure can be passed this week.

The Coloradoan said some senators who favor a stiffer measure incorporating the work-or-jail provisions of legislation the House approved four weeks ago hope to win their point in the give-and-take of a two-chamber conference.

The Senate, entering its third day of debate, was tugged by two opposing influences. One is a growing desire to pass a bill—almost any manpower control measure—to meet the high command's repeated requests. The other is the openly expressed opinion of some that things are going so well on the battlefronts it might be folly to change the fundamental production rules at home.

The American Red Cross was founded May 21, 1881.

ERNIE PYLE says: "This is your Red Cross"

"Something Fine to Behold"

By Ernie Pyle

EVERYWHERE I went there was the American Red Cross giving its services to our fighting men. It is something fine to behold, this touch of home which the men and women Red Cross workers are able to bring to our troops abroad.

When the Red Cross opens up in a new war theater, its growth has to be as fast as the growth of the Army. The way clubs spring up overnight in newly occupied centers, the way restaurants and dances and movies and clubmobiles and doughnut factories mushroom into life all over a new country, is something that still astonishes me.

Right in the field with their regiments are the Red Cross field directors, who act as a link between the soldiers and their homes.

In most of the hospitals, doing the recreational and welfare work for which the nurses can spare so little time, are the Red Cross hospital girls. With every medical unit are countless quantities of the indispensable blood plasma made from the voluntary blood donations of the American people.

Our soldiers and sailors abroad literally worship the Red Cross, and I personally can find nothing but praise to say about its program as I saw it in operation.

Out Of The Past
From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Miss Melndel a February Bride:
At the stroke of twelve Saturday, a beautiful wedding ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman S. Helndel, Carlisle street, when their daughter, Miss Jeanne Swope Helndel, became the bride of Francis Choat, of Framingham, Massachusetts. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Alexander McMillan, pastor of the Carlisle Episcopal church, in the presence of a small gathering of friends and relatives.

Leave for Kenosha: Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Peters left Gettysburg for Kenosha, Wisconsin, where Mr. Peters has accepted a position with the Nash motor company band.

Mrs. Peters was formerly Miss Bertha Stahl, of East Railroad street.

Take Store Possession: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bonesky, owners of the Gift Shop on Chambersburg street, near the Eagle Hotel, have taken possession of the store on Chambersburg street owned by Charles T. Ziegler. Legal transfers of the property will not be made until March tenth.

Takes Over Store: C. Ross Shuman, manager of the Stephens Drug Store on Baltimore street since it opened last November, on Wednesday became owner of the establishment. He will conduct the business on the same lines that has won him many friends since he came here. Mr. Shuman came from Harrisburg where he conducted a medicine store.

Bushman Named as Game Warden: Leo E. Bushman, Cumberland township, former clerk to the county treasurer, on Saturday received his appointment from the State Game Association as Adams county game warden, to succeed the late Guy Linn, Cashtown, who died suddenly a few weeks ago.

McCreary Here to Take Charge: Dr. J. Bruce McCreary, Shippensburg, representing the State Health department, arrived in Gettysburg on Tuesday to take charge of the scarlet fever situation at college.

Almost every day a new case developed at the institution and the total has now reached seven, none of whom are in a serious condition.

As the situation now stands some of the health officials believe that these slight cases may continue to break out indefinitely and that the students may be forced to remain in the dormitories for several more weeks or even a month or two.

Open School for Woman Voters: The Adams county branch of the Pennsylvania League of Women Citizens has reached the stage of development where lectures will be given in the high school auditorium for the benefit of women who expect to have the privilege soon of casting their first ballots.

Miss Mary Peters, Guernsey, is president of the organization; Mrs. John Keith, Gettysburg, vice president; Miss Hattie Krauth, Gettysburg, secretary and treasurer; while Mrs. Quincy Hershey, York Springs; Mrs. George Seakes, New Oxford; and Mrs. Richard Eldon, Bendersville, are district chairmen.

The lectures started on Thursday night with William Arch McClean, Esq., speaking on "Borough and County Government." Future lectures and speakers are "State Government," by Representative C. Arthur Grist; "National Government," Dr. James Ewing; "Political Parties," John D. Keith, Esq.; "The Judiciary," Judge Donald P. McPherson.

Upholds Record of Past Years: For the sixteenth time in as many years a goodly representation of Gettysburg people attended the supper of the Daughters of the American Revolution which has come to be an essential part here of George Washington's birthday. The supper was held again in the dining room of the Gettysburg Academy building.

Mrs. Walter H. O'Neal, Mrs. J. L. Butt and Mrs. S. S. Neely, in colonial attire, presided over the three tables while Mrs. J. C. Knox, Miss Margaret McMillan, Mrs. Charles Musselman and Mrs. J. Paxton Bigham assisted in various ways. The sum of $65 was cleared on the supper.

Those who waited on the tables were: Miss Sarah Butt, Henrietta Hersh, Sarah Neely, Amelia Butt, Margaret McGaughey, Martha Dickson, Caroline Blocher, Elizabeth Huber, Mary Power, Ruth Bender, Mary Musselman, Margaret McIlhenny, and Mrs. Gule Lefever.

Personal: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Weaver, of Route 7, Gettysburg, announce the birth of a son, Robert William, on Sunday.

Lieutenant Lewis Day and Mrs. Day, who were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Faber, Chambersburg street, have returned to Camp Franklin, Maryland.

Francis Hemler, who is stationed at the United States Hospital, Carlisle, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hemler, on High street.

Edmund Thomas, J. Elmer Musselman, Edgar A. Crouse, Edgar Dear-dorf, Wilson Bream, of the First National bank, and Irvin L. Taylor and Charles Stock, of the Gettysburg National, were in Harrisburg Monday attending the state banking convention.

ADMINISTRATION TAX PROGRAM AT FINAL HURDLE

Harrisburg, Feb. 28 (AP) — The administration tax program faced its final legislative hurdle today.

Four House-approved bills up for a Senate vote continue emergency taxes on liquor, cigarettes, corporate net income and gross utility receipts to raise an estimated $151,722,500 in 1945-47.

The Democratic minority promised renewed opposition to the measures after Republicans defeated repeated efforts to earmark revenue from the levies for local tax relief.

Lacks Appropriation
Another administration objective up for a vote in the House calls for complete medical and dental examinations of school children and teachers at the start of the next school year. Democrats said they would continue a fight to send it to committee for insertion of a specific appropriation.

Rep. Reuben Cohen (D., Phila.) contended in debate yesterday the Health Examination Bill has "quite a few things wrong with it" and mentioned specifically the lack of a definite appropriation.

"There is an appropriation hanging in midair," he asserted, "the governor has recommended $3,000,000 for examinations and $200,000 for administrative purposes."

"A Good Program"
Asserting the money would go to an agency "accused in the press and some tribunals as being a very political department," Cohen asked "Are we going to take the money and dump it into the lap of the secretary of health and say 'go ahead and see what you can do?'"

"We feel this is a good program," replied GOP leader Franklin H. Lichtenwalter. "It will bring about healthier children in Pennsylvania."

The House previously approved amendments to permit osteopathic physicians and surgeons to make examinations, to require they be made at least every two years, and to exempt persons from taking the tests on religious grounds except where the health secretary determines such exemptions are a menace to health.

Sprays To Protect Cherries
To keep cherry trees vigorous and highly productive it is necessary to protect the foliage and fruit from prevalent diseases and common insect foes by a regular program of protective sprays. When to make each application and the kind and strength of materials to use are not difficult matters to understand. The commercial orchardist employs these measures year after year. Backyard owners of but a few trees must adopt the same precautions if they are to enjoy maximum crops of fruit free from disease and insect ravages and limitations.

Cherry trees are rarely attacked by scales, although every grower should inspect his tree carefully at this time of the year, especially the sweet varieties. If scales are present, a dormant application of lime-sulphur should be made before buds begin to swell, diluted at the rate of one part concentrate to seven parts water. Certain fungous diseases are reduced by this application in addition to extermination of scales. However, in most cases the dormant spray may be omitted when examinations show no scales on the trees.

The first regular spray of the standard cherry schedule is made soon after the bloom petals fall. Use commercial dry-mix lime-sulphur, diluted according to directions on the container with 1½ pounds of arsenate of lead added to 50 gallons of the spray after first mixing it with 3 pounds of hydrated lime.

Repeat with the same strength materials about ten days later. Both of these applications are necessary to control curculios, rose bugs, pear slugs and other leaf chewing insects, also to prevent brown rot and leaf spot, two fungous diseases of cherries.

Many commercial orchardists repeat this application again 10 to 20 days later, although many eastern growers claim the third application is not necessary. Where leaf spot has been severe the previous season it will likely prove wise to make the third application.

The last spray of the cherry schedule occurs immediately after the fruit is harvested. It is applied primarily to curb leaf spot. Use lime-sulphur at the rate of 1 part concentrate with 40 parts water, or one quart of concentrate in 10 gallons of water. No arsenate is needed in this last application, as leaf spot is a fungous disease and the lime-sulphur is used solely as a fungicide. If leaf spot is severe, repeat the spray two or three weeks later.

Occasionally plant lice (aphids) are numerous on cherry trees about the time buds begin to open or a few days later. It is important to kill these pests before they cause the leaves to curl. Watch the trees closely and when aphids are abundant, make a special application of nicotine sulphate at the rate of one-half pint of 40 per cent strength in 50 gallons of water in which 3 pounds of potassium oleate soap or 3 pounds of rosin fish-oil soap has been dissolved. Only the aphids directly coated with the spray are killed.

Owners unable to locate a commercial supply of dry-mix lime-sulphur may prepare this material at home by a simple formula the editor will furnish free on request. Merely enclose a 3-cent stamp when asking for this information. Too, do not hesitate to include all the questions necessary to clear up doubtful points in cherry spraying.

NURSE DRAFT BILL MOVES UP IN CONGRESS

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP) — Confronted with figures showing almost 600,000 army and navy personnel in hospitals, the House leadership moved today to expedite legislation to draft nurses to care for them.

Tentative plans call for final House action Friday on a measure to subject to induction all unmarried nurses not under 20 or over 44 years of age.

Already approved by the Military Committee, the legislation won Rules Committee sanction after the army disclosed that battle casualties are filling hospitals at a rate of 1,600 daily and are "steadily mounting."

In addition, army officials said in a report to the Rules body, some 6,500 men become ill or suffer non-battle injuries every day.

Sick and wounded are being returned to the United States for hospitalization at a rate of more than 1,000 a day. As a result, the report said, army hospitals in this country had a population of 210,000 this week. In addition 280,000 army personnel were hospitalized outside the United States. The navy estimated its February hospital population at 92,000.

While men are discharged as promptly as their condition permits, the army said, the rate of incoming patients greatly exceeds the rate of discharges.

"These figures show better than any words can that we must do something and do it quickly to provide adequate nursing care for these men," Chairman May (D., Ky.) of the House Military Committee told a reporter.

SO WHAT

Seattle (AP) — Nattled when his cousin boasted her father had been able to buy a two-pound box of chocolates as a gift for her mother, a Seattle banker's young son retorted: "Well anyway, a week from next Wednesday we're going to get a pound of butter from our milkman."

MYSTERY
Freeport, Ill. (AP) — Some of the 30 members of the Stephenson County Sportsmen's club in a fox hunt were mildly perplexed after they closed in on a fox and shot it. They discovered the fox was wearing a dog collar—but none of the hunters had a ready explanation.

INSIDE CHECK
Chicago (AP) — Policeman Walter Green told felony Judge Charles S. Daugherty that a check he had handed to Otis Thomas for identification was not available as evidence in a case charging Thomas with cashing a worthless check. Green said when he sought to arrest Thomas he asked to see the check and when he handed it to him he saw it was a check. Daugherty, however, fined Thomas $10 on a charge of resisting an officer.

CURFEW AID
Pittsburgh, Feb. 28 (AP) — Patrick T. Fagan, area director for the War Relocation Authority, today announced he would ask the state Liquor Control Board to shut off whiskey rations from establishments which violate the curfew.

I wonder what sort of a world this would be for us today, had not those of courage, initiative, dreams, and enterprise, left the fruits of their labors behind.

We may smile at the past, and its many crude inventions, contrivances, customs, and varied ideas, but all of them have had much to do with all that we enjoy today. It was Gray who once wrote: "I love people that leave some traces of their journey behind them, and have strength enough to advise you to do so while you can."

Who, at the time, even vaguely dreamed that the crude contraption of the Wrights, that stayed in the air but a few minutes, would some day—and that not very far away—encircle the globe, and become one of the most destructive of all inventions? And yet, one of the most useful, as well. Things left behind are the inspiration for today and tomorrow!

Every inventor, every thinker, every teacher of whatever sort, leaves something behind. We all do, to a greater or less degree. To leave much should be the hope of us all!

At Annapolis Royal, in Nova Scotia, is a most interesting museum containing many of the utensils of the early Acadians. And in many of our museums are to be found examples of the works and ideas of those who long ago preceded us on this earth. Mr. Henry Ford's great early American museum at Dearborn, Michigan, is one of the most useful contributions to American history. There you see, realistically illustrated, the life of those who were our forefathers and pioneers. They left a great heritage behind.

Writers of both prose and poetry, of history, science and research, have enriched the world. Our libraries attest to this fact. And in the cold pages of their books and compositions, they have left shadows of themselves, so that a great book almost breathes!

I wonder what sort of a world this would be for us today, had not those of courage, initiative, dreams, and enterprise, left the fruits of their labors behind.

We may smile at the past, and its many crude inventions, contrivances, customs, and varied ideas, but all of them have had much to do with all that we enjoy today. It was Gray who once wrote: "I love people that leave some traces of their journey behind them, and have strength enough to advise you to do so while you can."

Who, at the time, even vaguely dreamed that the crude contraption of the Wrights, that stayed in the air but a few minutes, would some day—and that not very far away—encircle the globe, and become one of the most destructive of all inventions? And yet, one of the most useful, as well. Things left behind are the inspiration for today and tomorrow!

Every inventor, every thinker, every teacher of whatever sort, leaves something behind. We all do, to a greater or less degree. To leave much should be the hope of us all!

At Annapolis Royal, in Nova Scotia, is a most interesting museum containing many of the utensils of the early Acadians. And in many of our museums are to be found examples of the works and ideas of those who long ago preceded us on this earth. Mr. Henry Ford's great early American museum at Dearborn, Michigan, is one of the most useful contributions to American history. There you see, realistically illustrated, the life of those who were our forefathers and pioneers. They left a great heritage behind.

Writers of both prose and poetry, of history, science and research, have enriched the world. Our libraries attest to this fact. And in the cold pages of their books and compositions, they have left shadows of themselves, so that a great book almost breathes!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Nature's Great Book."

"Open Door Anthony"
"Open Door Anthony," his friends call Pte. Anthony Stankevitch, Trenton, N. J.

He was unloading a jeep when German shells started falling on his outfit's supply road. Anthony made full tilt for the nearest building as shrapnel sprayed around him.

He didn't slow down to open the door but crashed through headlong, landing in the center of the room under a table. He had torn the door right off its hinges.

ning this war on the battlefield.

Another battle against heretofore almost certain death, the death faced by sufferers of bacterial endocarditis, is being successfully concluded with the help of penicillin, the life-saving drug. How penicillin entered a war, long fought by the medical profession with small success, is told in the Reader's Digest for March.

J. Edgar Hoover, FBI head, in a preface to an article in the current issue of the new monthly magazine, Pageant, warns Americans that a vicious army of racketeers has sprung up, determined to get a share of the nation's wartime prosperity.

"Last year gullible citizens were bilked to the grand tune of 350 million dollars by means of phony get-rich-quick schemes. In essence, most of these are nothing but the hoary old Brooklyn Bridge deals, brushed off and streamlined to fit in with the tempo of today."

And worse is to come, according to the Better Business Bureau. It is predicted that the swindlers' 1945 "take" will reach the half billion mark.

We recently made a careful check of radio commentators over several networks... not those who read news bulletins but those who offer their own opinions, who generate enthusiasm and occasionally some pessimism.

Out of seven commentators speaking on the battle of Berlin not two had the same mileage advance of the Reds. Not two gave the same mileage the Reds were from Berlin.

The number of prisoners captured by the Allies on the western front varied in all seven broadcasts... as much as 1,500 men.

On the battle for Iwo in the Pacific one out of four commentators gave the same report as afternoon newspapers. The fourth commentator had the battle won, lost and in doubt within a fifteen-minute harangue.

Overheard in one infantry unit's personnel section:
"Your reports should be written so that even the most ignorant person will understand them," said the veteran sergeant admonishing the recruit personnel clerk.

"And what part don't you understand?" asked the newcomer.

Incumbents may run again for his or her office.

Local Offices
The officials to be elected in each of the county districts include a tax collector, an assessor, a road supervisor, an auditor and at least two school directors. Some townships will elect more than two directors where vacancies other than those caused by the expiration of terms have occurred.

In the state as a whole only one judge to the superior court and one judge to the supreme court will be elected.

Candidates for county offices must file petitions bearing the signatures of at least 100 registered voters while those seeking township offices must file petitions signed by at least 10 voters.

Three of the county office terms expiring this year—those of president-judge, associate judge and treasurer—have been filled for full terms by the incumbents. The fourth, the clerk of the courts, Mrs. Sheffer, was filled on appointment by Governor Martin early last fall after Howard W. Sheffer, who was installed in the office last January, died last August.

As a result of the governor's appointment, the election of the clerk of the courts occurs this fall and at four intervals thereafter. That action brought to two the number of main county posts to be filled in off-year elections. Prior to this year only the treasurer was elected on odd years.

The election of a president judge and the treasurer and clerk of the courts will occur together again in 1965.

Leaves From Diary Of War Correspondent

By HAL BOYLE

In Germany (AP)—Allied troops pushing through Germany are finding interesting propaganda signs in English left by vanished Nazi householders pleading for sympathy.

"Please treat this home as your own," says one sign.

Another says, "We have done you no harm—do not harm our little home."

These latest "Goebbels Gobbles"—because there is no doubt the signs are inspired by the German government—stir anger rather than sympathy among the troops, who have seen too much German destruction in other countries to worry about any damage the enemy suffers in his own land.

"It must be a terrible sense of guilt that makes the Germans put up these signs," said the 83rd Infantry Division's frontline newspaper, The Spearhead, in an editorial. "Why should they think the softly soldiers of a decadent democracy would destroy their little homes?"

"You don't suppose they think we'd do such a thing without provocation, do you? Or do you suppose they feel guilty about destroying half of Europe—and think we intend to destroy all of Germany?"

"They are guilty all right. Guilty as hell. And they know it. They are scared stiff. The war is right in their front yard. The shoe pinches. It is on the other foot. And they know that too."

"Ah, they are a cagey lot, these Germans. They are smart and they are going to play us for all they are worth. It's damn near the end of the line in more ways than one for most of them. They know it only too well."

"So when it comes to signs, we've got one of our own. It's a good one and we will plaster it on every house that we see:

"Under new management—democracy at work."

Scarce As Hen's Eggs

For 50 Belgian francs—more than one dollar—Cpl. John Dietrick of Dayton, Ohio, managed to obtain two hens' eggs, which are almost as scarce as hen's teeth over here.

The corporal carefully fried his two prize eggs, then sat down to eat them while his buddies looked on with their mouths watering. Dietrick took a big bite—then portions of eggs flew in all directions as he made a wry face.

"That's the last time I'll ever keep a can of butter in one hip pocket and a can of shoe polish in the other," he said mournfully, as he threw away the rest of his water-proofed eggs.

Overheard in one infantry unit's personnel section:

"Your reports should be written so that even the most ignorant person will understand them," said the veteran sergeant admonishing the recruit personnel clerk.

"And what part don't you understand?" asked the newcomer.

Press Endorses Red Cross Drive

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28—

Presidents of both the American Newspaper Publishers association and the National Editorial association, speaking for editors of daily and weekly newspapers throughout the United States, today gave their full endorsement of the 1945 Red Cross War Fund drive, and promised complete co-operation from the American press.

Linwood Noyes, president of ANPA, said "Over the period of its entire existence, the American Red Cross has made for itself a warm and irreplaceable spot in the lives and hearts of the American people. . . . The entire press of the United States supports all worthy undertakings. The American Red Cross stands on a pinnacle by itself. It will have the unstinted support of the newspapers of America."

Speaking for the National Editorial Association, President W. Verne McKinney said "I heartily recommend to the hometown newspapers of America wholehearted support of the 1945 Red Cross War Fund. The American Red Cross is performing a great service for our soldiers on foreign battlefields and in the training camps at home, and I strongly urge the all-out support of the press to the end that these services may be strengthened and continued. Regardless of the turn of events in the war, the need for financial support will not be materially lessened, particularly at the local level."

Chapter 26

Fading into the darkening desert, as the sun sank behind the Dracons, the black basalt column that marked Coyote Wells lay before O'Shane and the girl as they jogged wearily through the sage. At the base of the column a fire glimmered. Joan's anxious eyes sought O'Shane's. He smiled reassuringly.

"The Turkey burch: I sent the Chink after them."

Two riders issued from the blackened chaparral and cantered rapidly towards them. The redhead recognized Parker's upright figure and Viola Thornton beside him.

"Welcome, Sir Galahad!" cried the girl as they drew near. "And how's the damsel in distress?"

"Tired and disgruntled," replied Joan, with a drawn smile. "Won't they ever leave me in peace?"

At dawn, the cavalcade headed toward Piute Valley. Where the trail forked, Parker pulled off for Big River. Joan reined over beside him.

"I'm rising into town," she announced crisply, "and I'm not coming back—ever."

"Seeing that you sold to Wacker, m'am," observed O'Shane, "I reckon you're through here any ways."

County officials would also be permitted to set up joint clinics in co-operation with other counties.

Sponsor of four measures aimed at curbing gambling at sporting events, Sen. H. Jerome Jaspian (D., Phila.) submitted another bill to the Senate yesterday to outlaw pool-selling or book-making on results of baseball, basketball, football games and boxing and wrestling matches.

Jaspian said the activities of bookies are illegal now only so far as animal racing is concerned.

Books, upon conviction, would be subject to a fine of not more than $500, or imprisonment for one year, or both.

PRE-SENTENCE CLINICS URGED

Harrisburg, Feb. 28 (AP)—Creation of pre-sentencing medical clinics for persons convicted of certain crimes is proposed in legislation before the General Assembly.

Sponsored by Sen. Frank W. Ruth (D., Berks), the measure would permit county commissioners and judges to establish such clinics for examination prior to sentencing of persons convicted of crime who are first offenders, obviously mental cases, sex offenders, and alcoholic or narcotic addicts.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—The radio tube is shrinking in size. Some day it might even whittle itself down so that a fountain-pen vest-pocket set could become commonplace.

Meanwhile, it has been reduced to the point where it has taken on new jobs, like the walkie-talkie of the war, and is expected to find an immediate important place in peacetime civilian life.

MAROONS GAIN 5TH STRAIGHT VICTORY 43-30

Although the Gettysburg highlanders gave a weak exhibition, the Maroons captured their fifth straight of the season here in the final home game Tuesday evening by defeating a scrappy Shippensburg quintet 43-30.

The Maroons started well enough on two long tosses by Eisenhart and Heintzelman. Bolton landed a shot and an over-head toss by Ogden followed but the Greyhounds came right back on a foul by Sommerville and goal by Bolton. Ogden landed a short toss and Linn netted a foul. Ogden netted two free throws and Eisenhart looped a "peep" shot to give the Maroons a 12-7 margin at the quarter.

Shippensburg quickly took over the lead early in the second period. Successive goals by Alpaugh, Linn and Bolton put the Greyhounds ahead 13-12 after two and a half minutes. Sommerville and Fidler matched fouls and then Ogden sent the Maroons out in front with a goal, never to be headed. The half ended 21-18.

Increase Margin
Bolton landed a long shot to open the third period but Fidler and Thrush came through with twin-pointers to keep the locals in front. Another goal by Bolton was followed by goals by Eisenhart and Sachs to give Gettysburg a 29-22 advantage at the quarter.

With Billy Ogden setting the pace with three goals in the final round and aided by double-deckers by Fidler, Eisenhart, Epley and Rasmussen, the Maroons forged into a comfortable lead as the game neared its finish. Shippensburg fought gamely to the end and the team's spirited play contributed heavily throughout to keeping the Maroon attack well under control by a smooth zone defense.

Scrubs Victors
Cole looped five goals to pace the local reserves to a 27-17 victory in the preliminary game. Only two points separated the teams at half time, the Haehnlein-men holding an 11-9 advantage.

The Maroon varsity will close its season Thursday evening by meeting the Maryland State School for Deaf at Frederick.

Ed McKeever Goes To Cornell April 1

Ed McKeever, Feb. 28 (AP)—Texas Ed McKeever, whose 1944 Notre Dame football team won eight of ten games, reports to Cornell university April 1 as head coach.

Robert Kane, Cornell athletic director, announced signing of McKeever after a conference here yesterday. He did not disclose salary or other contract terms.

McKeever was selected to succeed Carl Snavely who resigned after the 1944 grid season to go to the University of North Carolina. The new coach expects to issue a call for spring practice about April 15.

Cornell officials considered 41 men before choosing McKeever, who took over the number one spot at Notre Dame last year after head Coach Frank Leahy entered the Navy. Notre Dame officials announced last August that the latter had signed a long-term contract to begin with his release from service.

Dickinson 5 Here For Final Tonight

Gettysburg college's basketball team will play its final home game of the season tonight by meeting Dickinson on the college court at 8 o'clock.

No preliminary game will be played.

The Bulldogs have already defeated the Red Devils at Carlisle and tonight hope to make it two in a row over their old rivals.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Bob Uiles, 17-year-old basketball ace of the Western, R. I. high school team (undefeated in 54 games in the Rhode Island Class B league) has scored 641 points in 18 games this season. . . . That seems to dispose of Lou Bloom's 479 as a possible record. . . . Bob has hit as high as 65 points a game; averaged 35.10, which is better than a point a minute for high school games. He has dropped in as many as 20 consecutive free throws besides 257 field goals. . . . Note to college coaches: Bob is six feet four and a senior; the line forms to the right and the end probably is somewhere around New London, Conn., now. . . . Another bright prospect, now unavailable, is 18-year-old Pvt. Douglas Ritchie, youngest player on the Keesler Field, Miss., cage team. He was slated for Wisconsin before his induction.

QUOTE, UNQUOTE

J. F. McKale, U. of Arizona athletic director: "Coaches are going to have a tough time after the war giving pep talks to the boys who have seen a lot of action."

SHORTS AND SHELLS

Cornell's final offer that lured Ed McKeever away from Notre Dame not only topped his salary at South Bend by a considerable sum but was more than Carl Snavely received for coaching football at Ithaca. . . . Eddie Litzenberger has joined another ex-jockey, Frank Colletti, as a fireman at Miami's Central station. . . . Clark Shaughnessy is writing a book on "T" formation football for use in high schools. . . . Chick Meehan signed as second baseman with the Braves in 1920 but ever played ball for them—which seems to bear some resemblance to Chick's pro football promotion.

Sharkey Manager Challenges Mauler

Boston, Feb. 28 (AP)—Johnny Buckley, manager of former Heavyweight Champion Jack Sharkey, doesn't like the idea of Jack Dempsey failing to list "my boy" as one of the 19 best he ever met.

"Why Sharkey could lick him the best day he ever lived," said the ex-glob's stocky mentor and now his ex-cob's in the operation of a tavern with "the longest bar in Boston."

"In fact, we could lick him today and we will if he gives us a match—all receipts to go for the benefit of servicemen."

"I mean that," Buckley said after scanning the list of the best 10 Dempsey gave out yesterday in San Francisco. Sharkey, who hung up his gloves long ago was not available to speak for himself.

CANNERS SNARE DOUBLE VICTORY

The Biglerville high boys won a thrilling basketball game from Washington Township high Tuesday evening at Biglerville 29-24.

With but one minute of play remaining the teams were deadlocked at 24-24. Walters landed a foul and Richard Rice dropped through two field goals to give Canners the decision.

The Biglerville girls encountered little trouble in doubling the count on the Washington Township girls in the preliminary 34-17. Kane paced the winners with 16 points.

Bolling Springs will play at Biglerville Thursday evening. It will be the final game for the Biglerville boys and the last tilt for Richard Rice, Heller and Jester.

If the Biglerville girls win their contest a triple playoff will be necessary for second place in the West Shore scholastic league.

HANOVER TRIPS EAST BERLIN HI

A big fourth-period rally by the Hanover high jayvees gave the nightawks a 35-19 victory over the East Berlin high dribblers at East Berlin Tuesday evening.

For three periods the teams battled nip and tuck and went into the last period deadlocked at 13-13. Eighteen points in the final quarter gave the Nightawks the decision.

An intramural team from Hanover downed the East Berlin reserves 44-33 in the preliminary game.

Await Reaction To Minor Loop Meeting

Chicago, Feb. 28 (AP)—Minor league strategists, seeking to broaden the scope of their baseball dealing with the "higher-ups," sat back and waited today for reverberations—if any—from the major leagues on their threat to abrogate the major-minor agreement.

The strategists, ten of them chosen to recommend revisions in the major-minor pact which expires next January, were silent as their three-day meeting drew toward a close. Monday, in a formal statement, the group had demanded a voice in selection of a baseball commissioner to succeed the late Kenesaw Mountain Landis, and had gone on record as favoring:

"Certain legislation for the protection of the minor leagues that would enable the National Association (of professional baseball leagues) to either reaffirm or cancel the agreement governing relationship between the major and minor leagues."

Arendtsville Plays Washington Twp. 5

The Arendtsville Vocational high school basketball teams ring down the curtain tonight at Arendtsville in one of the most successful campaigns in recent years. The competition tonight will be Washington Township high school previously defeated at Washington Township.

Bill Whiteley's girls will be out for their fifteenth win tonight. In a sixteen-game schedule the girls' varsity won all but their opening game of the season, against Biglerville. Every member of the squad will be back next season as there wasn't a senior girl in the lineup all year.

The Arendtsville boys will be after their sixteenth win in twenty starts this season. The Vocational tossers dropped two decisions to North York, one to Delone Catholic and Hanover during the campaign but captured every game against county competition to earn the right to battle for District 3 honors in the P.I.A.A. playoffs.

Edmund Wicht, P.I.A.A. secretary, notified the Arendtsville authorities that they would meet Greencastle Saturday night at Chambersburg.

FAIRFIELD HIGH DROPS 2 GAMES

Arendtsville, high, swept two cage games played Tuesday evening with Fairfield High school on the Fairfield field court.

Coach Blough's boys won their 15th victory against four reverses through their 46-24 decision. At half time the Apple Pickers led 25-12. R. Allison and Harbaugh led the scoring for their teams with 19 and 17 points, respectively.

The Arendtsville girls won their 15th straight in the preliminary game by a 41-19 score. At half time the winners held a 22-4 lead.

East Berlin high will play at Fairfield Thursday evening in the final games for Coach Martin's teams.

UNCONVINCED

Pittsburgh, Feb. 28 (AP)—"Frankly, we don't believe this story," Judge L. Kenneth Harkins told Joseph P. Morris, Plum township tavern owner, who said he had "inadvertently" overlooked 300 bottles of whiskey in an inventory.

Then the judge upheld a 20-day suspension by the state Liquor Control Board resulting from failure to report the liquor to the Federal Alcohol Tax unit.

LITTLESTOWN WINS 2 TILTS

Littlestown high captured both ends of a basketball twin bill played Tuesday evening with Westminster high at Littlestown.

After trailing at half time 16-14, the Littlestown boys outscored their opponents 8-0 in the third quarter and went on to win in easy style 31-18. Mehring was top man for the victors with 11 talls.

The Littlestown girls piled up a 13-5 lead in the first half to clinch the preliminary game 28-22. Crouse Bollin and Free led the scoring for their respective teams.

Littlestown will close its season by playing Stewartstown on the latter's floor Friday night.

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—The radio tube is shrinking in size. Some day it might even whittle itself down so that a fountain-pen vest-pocket set could become commonplace.

Meanwhile, it has been reduced to the point where it has taken on new jobs, like the walkie-talkie of the war, and is expected to find an immediate important place in peacetime civilian life.

MAROONS GAIN
5TH STRAIGHT
VICTORY 43-30

Although the Gettysburg high cagers gave a weak exhibition, the Maroons captured their fifth straight of the season here in the final home game Tuesday evening by defeating a scrappy Shippensburg quintet 43-30.

The Maroons started well enough on two long tosses by Eisenhart and Heinzelman. Bolton landed a shot and an over-head toss by Ogden followed but the Greyhounds came right back on a foul by Sommerer and goal by Bolton. Ogden landed a short toss and Linn netted a foul. Ogden netted two free throws and Eisenhart looped a "peep" shot to give the Bream-men a 12-7 margin at the quarter.

Shippensburg quickly took over the lead early in the second period. Successive goals by Alpaugh, Linn and Bolton put the Greyhounds ahead 13-12 after two and a half minutes. Sommerer and Fidler matched fouls and then Ogden sent the Maroons out in front with a goal, never to be headed. The half ended 21-18.

Increase Margin
Bolton landed a long shot to open the third period but Fidler and Thrush came through with twin-pointers to keep the locals in front. Another goal by Bolton was followed by goals by Eisenhart and Sachs to give Gettysburg a 29-22 advantage at the quarter.

With Billy Ogden setting the pace with three goals in the final round and aided by double-deckers by Fidler, Eisenhart, Epley and Rasmussen, the Maroons forged into a comfortable lead as the game neared its finish. Shippensburg fought gamely to the end and the team's spirited play contributed heavily throughout to keeping the Maroon attack well under control by a smooth zone defense.

Scrubs Victors
Cole looped five goals to pace the local reserves to a 27-17 victory in the preliminary game. Only two points separated the teams at half time, the Haehnlen-men holding an 11-9 advantage.

The Maroon varsity will close its season Thursday evening by meeting the Maryland State School for Deaf at Frederick.

Ed McKeever Goes To Cornell April 1
Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Texas Ed McKeever, whose 1944 Notre Dame football team won eight of ten games, reports to Cornell university April 1 as head coach.

Robert Kane, Cornell athletic director, announced signing of McKeever after a conference here yesterday. He did not disclose salary or other contract terms.

McKeever was selected to succeed Carl Snavely who resigned after the 1944 grid season to go to the University of North Carolina. The new coach expects to issue a call for spring practice about April 15.

Cornell officials considered 41 men before choosing McKeever, who took over the number one spot at Notre Dame last year after head Coach Frank Leahy entered the Navy.

Notre Dame officials announced last August that the latter had signed a long-term contract to begin with his release from service.

DUQUESNE OUT
Pittsburgh, Feb. 28 (AP)—Duquesne high, defending WPIAL tiddler and 1944's state champion, was eliminated in the first round of the WPIAL Class A cage tourney last night at the hands of Connellsville, 50-45.

Dickinson 5 Here For Final Tonight
Gettysburg college's basketball team will play its final home game of the season tonight by meeting Dickinson on the college court at 8 o'clock.

No preliminary game will be played.

The Bullets have already defeated the Red Devils at Carlisle and tonight hope to make it two in a row over their old rivals.

Sports Roundup
By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Bob Ulles, 17-year-old basketball ace of the Western, R. I. high school team (undefeated in 54 games in the Rhode Island Class B league) has scored 641 points in 18 games this season . . . That seems to dispose of Lou Bloom's 479 as a possible record . . . Bob has hit as high as 65 points a game; averaged 35.10, which is better than a point a minute for high school games. He has dropped in as many as 20 consecutive free throws besides 257 field goals . . . Note to college coaches: Bob is six feet four and a senior; the line forms to the right and the end probably is somewhere around New London, Conn., now . . . Another bright prospect, now unavailable, is 18-year-old Pvt. Douglas Ritchie, youngest player on the Keeler Field, Miss., cage team. He was slated for Wisconsin before his induction.

QUOTE, UNQUOTE
J. F. McKale, U. of Arizona athletic director: "Coaches are going to have a tough time after the war giving pep talks to the boys who have seen a lot of action."

SHORTS AND SHELLS
Cornell's final offer that lured Ed McKeever away from Notre Dame not only topped his salary at South Bend by a considerable sum but was more than Carl Snavely received for coaching football at Ithaca . . . Eddie Litzberger has joined another ex-jockey, Frank Colletti, as a fireman at Miami's Central station . . . Clark Shaughnessy is writing a book on "T" formation football for use in high schools . . . Chick Mehan signed as second baseman with the Braves in 1920 but ever played ball for them—which seems to bear some resemblance to Chick's pro football promotion.

Sharkey Manager Challenges Mauler
Boston, Feb. 28 (AP)—Johnny Buckley, manager of former Heavyweight Champion Jack Sharkey, doesn't like the idea of Jack Dempsey failing to list "my boy" as one of the 19 best he ever met.

"Why Sharkey could lick him the best day he ever lived," said the ex-gob's stocky mentor and now his associate in the operation of a tavern with "the longest bar in Boston."

"In fact, we could lick him today and we will if he gives us a match—al receipts to go for the benefit of servicemen."

"I mean that," Buckley said after scanning the list of the best 10 Dempsey gave out yesterday in San Francisco. Sharkey, who hung up his gloves long ago was not available to speak for himself.

Await Reaction To Minor Loop Meeting
Chicago, Feb. 28 (AP)—Minor league strategists, seeking to broaden the scope of their baseball dealing with the "higher-ups," sat back and waited today for reverberations—if any—from the major leagues on their threat to abrogate the major-minor agreement.

The strategists, ten of them chosen to recommend revisions in the major-minor pact which expires next January, were silent as their three-day meeting drew toward a close. Monday, in a formal statement, the group had demanded a voice in selection of a baseball commissioner to succeed the late Kenesaw Mountain Landis, and had gone on record as favoring:

"Certain legislation for the protection of the minor leagues that would enable the National Association of professional baseball leagues to either reaffirm or cancel the agreement governing relationship between the major and minor leagues."

Pittsburgh, Feb. 28 (AP)—A resolution to oppose any wage or sales tax offered to adjust the city's financial difficulties was passed by city council yesterday.

CANNERS SNARE DOUBLE VICTORY
The Biglerville high boys won a thrilling basketball game from Washington Township high Tuesday evening at Biglerville 29-24.

With but one minute of play remaining the teams were deadlocked at 24-24. Walters landed a foul and Richard Rice dropped through two field goals to give Cannners the decision.

The Biglerville girls encountered little trouble in doubling the count on the Washington Township girls in the preliminary 34-17. Kane paced the winners with 16 points.

Boiling Springs will play at Biglerville Thursday evening. It will be the final game for the Biglerville boys and the last tilt for Richard Rice, Heller and Jester.

If the Biglerville girls win their contest a triple playoff will be necessary for second place in the West Shore scholastic league.

HANOVER TRIPS EAST BERLIN HI
A big fourth-period rally by the Hanover high jayvees gave the nightawks a 35-19 victory over the East Berlin high dribblers at East Berlin Tuesday evening.

For three periods the teams battled nip and tuck and went into the last period deadlocked at 13-13. Eighteen points in the final quarter gave the Nightawks the decision.

An intramural team from Hanover downed the East Berlin reserves 44-33 in the preliminary game.

Arendtsville Plays Washington Twp. 5
The Arendtsville Vocational high school basketball teams ring down the curtain tonight at Arendtsville in one of the most successful campaigns in recent years. The competition tonight will be Washington Township high school previously defeated at Washington Township.

Bill Whiteley's girls will be out for their fifteenth win tonight. In a sixteen-game schedule the girls' varsity won all but their opening game of the season, against Biglerville. Every member of the squad will be back next season as there wasn't a senior girl in the lineup all year.

The Arendtsville boys will be after their sixteenth win in twenty starts this season. The Vocational tossers dropped two decisions to North York, one to Delone Catholic and Hanover during the campaign but captured every game against county competition to earn the right to battle for District 3 honors in the P.I.A.A. playoffs.

Edmund Wicht, P.I.A.A. secretary, notified the Arendtsville authorities that they would meet Greencastle Saturday night at Chambersburg.

UNCONVINCED
Pittsburgh, Feb. 28 (AP)—"Frankly, we don't believe this story," Judge L. Kenneth Harkins told Joseph P. Morris, Plum township tavern owner, who said he had "inadvertently" overlooked 300 bottles of whiskey in an inventory.

Then the judge upheld a 20-day suspension by the state Liquor Control Board resulting from failure to report the liquor to the Federal Alcohol Tax unit.

Hershey Bears Seem Sure Of Playoff Spot
(By The Associated Press)
The Hershey Bears virtually clinched a playoff spot in the American Hockey League by whipping the St. Louis Flyers, 4 to 2, before 3,764 on the St. Louis ice last night. The victory put the Bears, runnersup to Buffalo in the Eastern Division, eight points ahead of the Providence Reds with only a few games left to play.

Hershey piled up a 4-0 lead in the first two periods on goals by On Webster, Norm Calladine, Hal Cooper and Fred Robertson to coast to a comparatively easy triumph. It was the fourth straight defeat for the cellar-dwelling Flyers.
